Q. IV. What Ministers have DIED since the last Conference?

A. 1. In Great Britain, the twenty-three following:—

(1.) CHARLES CURRELLY; who was born at Devonport, January 4th, 1806. He was blessed with godly parents, who brought him up "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." When fifteen years of age he was convinced of sin, and soon found peace with God whilst partaking of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. In the year 1827, he began to "call sinners to repentance," and three years afterwards was appointed by the Conference to the Holt Circuit. After having been employed in the active work of the ministry for thirty-two years, he was compelled to retire on account of failing health and increasing infirmities. The remainder of his life was spent in the city of Bristol. Resting on the atonement of Christ, and rejoicing in its sufficiency, he departed this life September 29th, 1868, in the sixty-third year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(2.) THOMAS EDWARDS; who was born at Walton-on-Trent, February 18th, 1781. His father was a clergyman, and under the ministry of the Established Church his first religious impressions were received. Not being cherished at the time, these convictions passed away, and were only renewed when, several years afterwards, at Liverpool, he heard a sermon for the first time in a Methodist chapel. The Preacher was Dr. Adam Clarke, and the truth came home to him with such power that he was led earnestly to seek the Divine mercy. On the following Christmas-day, under a sermon by the Rev. Thomas Cooper, he was brought to an intelligent and loving faith in the Gospel. He entered the ministry in 1808, and consecrated to it all the energies and talents with which God had endowed him. His earnest piety, untiring industry, and sound judgment, having commended him to the Missionary Committee as a suitable successor to the Rev. Valentine Ward, in the superintendence of our Irish Schools, he entered on that important work in 1825. After five years of useful service, he returned to England with the testimony of the Irish Conference concerning him as having been to them "a brother, a fellow-labourer, and a blessing." In his next appointment, that of resident Secretary of the Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society at Hatton-garden, he gave to his duties his wonted earnest attention; but, influenced by a strong preference for the ordinary work of the ministry, he retired at the end of the year, and was appointed to a Circuit. In this more congenial form of service he faithfully laboured until the Conference of 1852; when, wearied out with arduous toil, he sought rest as a Supernumerary. In this new relation he continued, as his strength would permit, those works of faith and labours of love in which he delighted. Strict in self-examination and self-discipline, he endeavoured to live in accordance with the high standard which he set before his people. Generous in the distribution of his property, as a steward of God, he ministered to the wants of many poor. His views of the responsibility of his vocation were high; and, ever characterized by strong conscientiousness, he was unfailing in his faithfulness, fearless in the public and private reproof of sin, and full in his statements of the Gospel. Thus he laboured to serve his generation according to the will of God. When near his end, being asked "if all was well," he replied, with great emotion, "It is well; it is well. God is my salvation." In the spirit of prayer he entered heaven for the service of praise for ever. He died on Monday, October 12th, 1868, in the eighty-eighth year of his age, and the sixty-first of his ministry.

(3.) George Browne Macdonald; who was born at Stockport, October 2d, 1805. He was the son of the late Rev. James Macdonald; to whose counsels and example he often referred with reverence, as being amongst the greatest blessings of his life. He was converted to God in early youth, and became a member of the Methodist Society while at Woodhouse-Grove School. After being engaged for some time in tuition, he entered the ministry, receiving his first appointment at the Conference of 1825. He at once gave promise of the ability and usefulness which characterized his labours for nearly forty years. His powers as a preacher were of a superior order. To great natural gifts of voice and manner were added a vigorous and cultivated mind, and many of the higher qualifications of a Christian minister. He was painstaking in the exposition of Scripture, clear and logical in his reasoning, and powerful in his appeals to the heart. His services in the pulpit and on the platform were held in great request, and he freely responded to the calls which were made upon him; but, though engaging in incessant public duties, he devoted the early hours of the morning to study and preparation. Manly and generous in spirit, genial in his intercourse, and firm in his friendship, he was held in esteem by many outside his own religious communion; while by those who enjoyed the benefit of his labours, as a preacher and visitor, he was loved and honoured still more highly. A ministry of great eloquence, and successful in the conversion of many souls, was brought somewhat suddenly to a close at the Conference of 1863, when, in consequence of failing health, Mr. Macdonald was compelled to retire from Circuit-work. His closing years were spent in physical weakness which contrasted painfully with his former vigour; but his mental and spiritual life was at its best. He endured affliction with complete resignation to the will of God, suffering as willingly as he had served. He read much, and retained to the last a lively interest in all that concerned the Church. His letters and conversation bore abundant witness of his fellowship with God, and growing sanctity of spirit. A few weeks before his death he wrote thus: "Peace in believing is, I humbly venture to think, my most ordinary state of experience. I mean, a calm resting on the love, and power, and faithfulness of God. I am conscious of an increase of spiritual strength, greater hatred of sin, a more intense love to Christ, and a higher appreciation of His Person, work, and offices. The frame of my mind is habitually more devout, so that the transition to direct acts of devotion is scarcely perceptible." He died, in great peace, at Bewdley, November 13th, 1868, in the sixty-fourth year of his age, and the forty-fourth of his ministry.

(4.) Henry Sharp; who was born at Poole, Dorsetshire, in 1833. His parents were pious Methodists, who sought to train him aright, and he was brought to true repentance when about eighteen years of age. Having found the unspeakable peace of the Gospel, he thenceforward steadfastly cleaved to the Lord. He became a Local preacher in 1857, and in the following year, after experiencing a more than ordinary baptism of the Holy Spirit, offered himself as a candidate for the ministry. Two years were then passed at Didsbury; and subsequently at Shaftesbury, and in several other Circuits, he "fulfilled his course" with great fidelity and acceptance. Striving to be understood by the most ignorant, aiming at the conscience of his hearers, and always inspired by "a calmly fervent zeal," he was rewarded by witnessing, in more than one instance, an extensive revival of the work of God. He was of studious habits, a diligent pastor, and a kind colleague. His end was sudden. After preaching on the Sabbath with much power, he caught a severe cold, and ten days afterwards sank into a stupor, in which, with brief intervals of consciousness, he lingered for about twenty-four hours. He died November 19th, 1868; his last distinct words being, "I am a poor sinner, but Jesus is my all."

(5.) Robert Sherwell; who was born at Woodbury, in Devonshire, in 1792. His father dying when he was very young, it devolved chiefly on his mother to endeavour to "train him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." Although strongly impressed in childhood with the importance of eternal things, some time elapsed before he sought in earnest "the pearl of great price." At length, however, he was deeply convinced of sin, and, through faith in the atonement of Christ, experienced a clear sense of the pardoning love of God. He was admitted as a candidate for the ministry in the year 1815, and devoted himself with assiduity to the discharge of his public duties. He gave attendance to reading, and by diligent study of the Scriptures became "a scribe instructed unto the kingdom of heaven." He was distinguished by his cheerful piety, discriminating judgment, courteous manners, and a disposition truly kind and affectionate. Possessing the confidence of his brethren, he was chosen to fill several responsible offices, in which he acted uprightly and wisely. As a Superintendent he faithfully maintained the discipline of the Connexion, and endeavoured to uphold the great principles of truth, purity, and peace. As a preacher he was plain, lucid, and practical. His heart being enlarged with tender concern for the souls of men, Divine truth flowed freely from his lips, and by "manifestation of the truth" he commended himself "to every man's conscience in the sight of God." Having laboured forty-six years with acceptance and usefulness, declining health and many infirmities obliged him to retire from regular and active service. On perceiving that he was drawing near to the closing scene, he bowed with calm resignation to the will of his Heavenly Father. His call to depart found him with his loins girded about, and his light burning. He testified "that he had no fear;" and on November 20th, 1868, peacefully passed away to behold, with the worshippers before the Throne, the glory of the beatific vision in heaven.

(6.) James Brownell, the son of a Missionary, was born in the Island of Tortola, September 27th, 1804, and sent to Woodhouse-Grove School in 1812; where, during a revival of religion among the boys, he found peace with God. At the expiration of his pupilage he remained in the school, as a teacher, until 1835; the last four years being those of his probation for the ministry. From the time of his ordination he laboured uninterruptedly, with acceptance, until his death. His preaching was characterized by considerable research, clear thought, and strict fidelity. He entered into every part of the service of the sanctuary with energy; never losing sight of the proper work of a Minister of the Gospel,—that of saving souls and edifying the flock of Christ. As a Superintendent, he was greatly valued and loved; his kindness and courtesy never failed, and his wise counsels, imparted with modesty, were highly prized by his colleagues. During the last three months of his life his Christian experience increased in richness and joyousness; he was evidently ripening for glory; and often expressed a wish that, if it pleased God, he might "cease at once to work and live." His desire was granted. Having retired to rest one night at ten o'clock, about four the next morning his heart ceased to beat, and almost instantly, this trusting, loving servant of God passed from earth to heaven. He died at Todmorden, November 23d, 1868, in the sixty-fifth year of his age, and the thirty-eighth of his ministry.

(7.) George Taylor; who was born at Diss, in 1789. He was favoured with a pious parentage, and was converted to God in his youth. Discovering early a desire for mental culture and for the study of theology, and seeking to profit by intercourse with able ministers, his providential designation was soon apparent. This, however, he resisted, amid severe mental struggles, until, after a dangerous illness, which he deemed admonitory, he forsook all, and followed Christ, doing the work of an evangelist. He read assiduously the best authors, and gathered stores of theological and general learning. His studious habits, more than average mental gifts, and extensive knowledge of human nature, combined to furnish him for his holy calling. His ministry was able, intelligent, and attended with much unction. He applied himself with diligence to the exposition and application of the Word. Always ready for the defence of the faith, he nevertheless loved to dwell chiefly on the great experimental truths of the Gospel, edifying the Church, and leading believers on to holiness; and he was permitted to witness extensive revivals of religion crowning the truth preached. As a Pastor, he was tender and judicious, fearless when brought into contact with perilous disease, and solicitous for the welfare of the young. His evident humility and disinterestedness, his uniform piety and integrity, added to a high sense of honour, loyalty to the principles of the Methodist body, and an excellent judgment, well fitted him for the administration of our discipline. For many years he had charge of important Circuits, and was several times placed in the position of Chairman of a District: the duties of which office he discharged so as to secure general esteem and confidence. It was not till after forty-seven years of continuous labour that this venerable servant of Christ found it needful to seek rest; and for two years he did good service in a more limited sphere. The growing infirmities of the remaining portion of his life were borne without a murmur. Filled with humbling views of himself, he was natually disinclined to speak much of his religious experience. Referring, however, on one occasion, to Rom. iv. 5, "To him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness," he said, shortly before his death, "That is my anchor." He passed peacefully away to the heavenly Jerusalem, November 25th, 1868, in the seventy-ninth year of his age, and the fifty-fifth of his ministry.

(8.) Thomas Haswell; who was born at Shrewsbury, June 29th, 1810. In early life he was awakened to a sense of his sinfulness and danger. For a long period his conscience was burdened with guilt, and he sought the Lord with many tears. One evening he earnestly pleaded with God to show him the hindrance to his finding mercy; and, before the night closed, he was enabled to rely on Christ as his Saviour, and was filled with peace and joy. After labouring acceptably as a Local preacher, he was admitted as a student in the Theological Institution at Hoxton. In April, 1836, he sailed for India. On the voyage he commenced the study of Tamil, and acquired considerable knowledge of it before landing. His kind and genial spirit endeared him greatly to his fellow-workers; and his piety, zeal, energy, and courage rendered him an able Missionary to the heathen. After fourteen years of successful toil in the foreign field, he returned to his native land, and entered on the home work. In the Circuits to which he was successively appointed, he laboured diligently, invariably gaining the esteem of his colleagues and the people. As a preacher, he was evangelical, fervent, and practical; as the Superintendent of a Circuit, judicious, firm, and conciliating. He often expressed a desire to die while engaged in the full work of the ministry. This desire was gratified. On the afternoon of December 15th, 1868, he left home, apparently in good health, to preach at a neighbouring village. Soon after his arrival he complained of indisposition, and, feeling himself unable to conduct the service, was conveyed home. In less than an hour after his return he passed away so peacefully, that his beloved wife, in whose arms he was reclining, was for some time unconscious of the solemn change.

(9.) George Gilfillan Letters; who was born at Glasgow, July 2d, 1839. Blessed with pious parents, he was from childhood remarkably moral in his outward deportment. In his eighteenth year, being led to see the need of a change of heart, he sought and found "peace in believing." At the Conference of 1866 he was appointed to the Shotley-Bridge Circuit, in which he laboured, with great acceptance and success, for upwards of two years. He was punctually attentive to his various duties. His visits to all parts of the Circuit were anticipated, and were remembered, with pleasure. He possessed a manly, independent spirit, but was always affable and gentle. He was cheerful without levity—serious, but never gloomy. He was a true friend, and a valuable colleague; a pattern to believers, being constantly engaged in furthering his Master's business. He read much, and studied closely. His sermons evinced careful preparation and originality of thought, and were delivered with great earnestness: he left on his hearers the impression that his object was to save souls; and many will be the crown of his rejoicing in the day of the Lord Jesus. His deep, unaffected piety, his uniform Christian consistency, his zeal and kindness, won for him general esteem; and his early and sudden removal was felt as a loss to the Church. He suffered greatly for four days and nights; and on December 28th, 1868, entered into the rest of his Lord.

(10.) Thomas Clulow; who was born at Macclesfield, March 6th, 1833. He was blessed with pious parents, whose counsels and prayers resulted in his early conversion. His gifts, graces, and labours in the Circuit gave early indication that he was called to the ministry; as a candidate for which he was received at the Conference of 1856. "The beauty of holiness" was eminently set forth in his pure, gentle, and becoming life. As a Minister of Christ he was deeply sensible of his duties and responsibilities. His labours in the pulpit were acceptable and useful, being owned of God in the conversion of sinners, and in the edification and quickening of believers. Affable manners, diligence in pastoral visitation, especially among the sick and poor, together with a tender concern for the religious interests of the young, greatly endeared him to the people among whom he moved. As a colleague he was faithful, obliging, and genial. On his being appointed, at the last Conference, to the Southwark Circuit, he entered cheerfully upon his work, and continued to prosecute it for four months with exemplary diligence. But with the last Sabbath of the year his public labours ceased: his Master said, "It is enough." His mortal affliction was both painful and prostrating; but the grace of God was abundantly given to him. In extreme weakness he was heard faintly to whisper such words as, "Heaven;" "Glory;" "His arms are around me!" Approaching his end, he gathered up his remaining strength, and his friends caught from his feeble lips the sentence, "'I shall behold Thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with Thy likeness'—satisfied—satisfied." When he had said this, he fell asleep January 22d, 1869, in the thirty-sixth year of his age, and the thirteenth of his ministry.

(11.) John Weir Crankshaw; who was born at Adlington, near Bolton, of godly parents, and early displayed signs of a devout and serious spirit. When about nine years of age he was deeply convinced of sin, and at length obtained an inward evidence of his pardon which he never lost to the day of his death. When only sixteen years of age he began to preach. Calm and thoughtful in demeanour, and a diligent student of God's Word, he evinced an intelligence and self-possession that generally belong to riper years. After a residence of three years at the Didsbury Institution, he entered upon his first Circuit in 1847. Henceforth for eighteen years he proved himself a faithful Minister of Christ. His sermons were carefully prepared; the language used in them was chaste, and their delivery was marked by considerable grace and feeling. As a Pastor, he was diligent and prudent. He had a special affection for the young, and excelled in the management of classes for their instruction. The poor and bereaved found in him a sympathising friend. By both fellow-ministers and people he was held in high esteem. Never robust in body, the arduous work of the ministry at length broke down his constitution. Change of air and retirement failed to check the progress of disease; and gradually, during four years, he sank to rest; peaceful, patient, resigned. His only regret seemed to be, as he sometimes expressed it, "I was just finding out I had something to say, when my lips were closed. I should like to have laboured a little longer; but it is right,—quite right." On another occasion he exclaimed, "I am ready to depart; the chariot lingers: O for a triumphant flight!" Quietly, in his sleep, his spirit passed away to the heavenly rest. He died at Bristol, January 22d, 1869, in the forty-fourth year of his age, and the twenty-second of his ministry.

(12.) Maurice Britton; who was born in the Kingswood Circuit, November 3d, 1802. Under parental training, at the early age of sixteen, he sought and obtained the forgiveness of sins. Convinced that he was called to preach the Gospel, and possessing promising talents, he was soon after placed on the Bath Circuit plan, and laboured diligently and successfully as a Local preacher for some time. He received an appointment to a Circuit in 1830. A diligent student of the Word, and careful in preparation for the pulpit, he preached in a style clear, practical, and edifying; his labours being alike useful in the conversion of sinners and the building up of believers. As a pastor, while caring for all, he paid special attention to the afflicted, the poor, and the young: and his superintendence of Circuits was marked by firmness and prudence. In the family he was tenderly affectionate, and his spirit in general society, while genial, was that of an eminently godly man. He toiled on, notwithstanding weakness and pain, and his last brief illness found him watching and waiting. With happy prospects, he passed to his reward, on February 22d, 1869, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(13.) William Wears; who was born at North-Shields, July 9th, 1798. Though not favoured with pious parents, he was at an early age a subject of religious impressions. He was converted to God through the instrumentality of the late Rev. Daniel Isaac, and joined the Methodist Society in 1811. He was called into the ministry in 1824, and was appointed to Zetland, where he laboured with great zeal and success for several years. Subsequently, both in Scottish and English Circuits, he was instrumental in winning many souls to Christ. He was eminently a man of prayer. His sermons were well studied, and were often delivered with much unction and power. During the last twenty years his infirmities incapacitated him for regular Circuit-work; but he continued to preach with great earnestness whenever his strength permitted. An attack of paralysis terminated his useful life. A week before his death, though scarcely able to articulate a sentence, he bore pleasing testimony to the power of Divine grace. To the inquiry, if he "felt himself on the Rock," he answered, "Yes;" and being asked "if he had a clear prospect of being with Jesus," he looked up with a smile, and, with considerable energy, gave the same reply. He fell asleep at Nantwich, February 22d, 1869.

(14.) John Jones (a), who was a native of Llantrissent, Glamorganshire. From a child he had been taught to love the Holy Scriptures, to fear God, and to keep His commandments. When he was yet young he gave his heart to God, became a member of our Society, and began to preach. When he was twenty-one he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry, and after spending the usual time at the Theological Institution, began his labours as a Welsh travelling Preacher. In all the Circuits in which he travelled he was much respected and beloved. As a man he was intelligent, upright, serious, firm, and faithful; the whole course of his consistent and exemplary life being a distinct and satisfactory evidence of the depth and genuineness of his piety. As a preacher, he was methodical, clear, scriptural, and instructive. Possessing a remarkably retentive memory, and having a rich fund of varied materials at his command, he was able to illustrate and adorn his discourses so as to render them generally interesting and edifying. His pastoral visits were frequent and highly valued: never would he willingly leave a house without prayer and exhortation. He had the valuable gift of attracting the notice of young people, and interesting them in moral and Scriptural subjects. He was eminently a man of God. As a colleague, he was faithful, cautious, and unflinching in duty. He filled various offices of trust and responsibility in the district to which he belonged, and was ever punctual and faithful in the discharge of whatever he undertook. For some months previous to his departure, he endured great weakness and languor. During his affliction, however, he was graciously sustained and comforted. He was calm, confident, and happy, being fully resigned to the Divine will. Resting on the atonement of Christ, he testified that the Saviour was with him, and that he had no fear of death. He died at Cardiff, March 13th, 1869, in the fifty-first year of his age, and the twenty-sixth of his ministry.

(15.) Francis Athow West, the son of a Wesleyan-Methodist Minister, was born at Kettering, in the first year of the present century. The fruits of his godly training began to ripen early, and, while a boy in Woodhouse-Grove School, he was converted to God. After leaving school the fervour of his piety abated, and his joy in the Lord was lost amidst the occupations and interests of the business-world. It was at the table of the Lord that he once more fed on Christ "in his heart by faith," and his peace and confidence were restored. The recovered blessing was soon followed by the Divine call to the work of the ministry; to which Mr. West obediently yielded himself, labouring faithfully, and with eminent success, at first in some of the less known, but afterwards in more important and honourable posts. As a faithful preacher of the truth, as a wise Pastor, and as an administrator of our system, he wrought with great diligence; and how fully he won the respect and confidence of his brethren was testified by the offices of high trust which were committed to him, from time to time, and by his election, in the year 1857, to the Presidency of the Conference. His mental characteristics were strongly marked, and of no ordinary type. In frequent bodily affliction, attended with great nervous sensibility, he nevertheless evinced uncommon activity and power of intellect. His apprehension was clear, and his judgment, though his habit of carefully weighing evidence occasionally gave him an appearance of hesitation, was sound and accurate. His feelings were tender, and his sympathy was quickly excited, though the effect of acute and highly-irritating pain often disguised the more soft and beautiful features of his character. He was a lover of good men, and a hater of all inconsistency and pretence. He knew how to rebuke sharply where rebuke was deserved. Readily mastering difficult questions, he logically and forcibly explained what he himself clearly apprehended. An instructive and agreeable companion, by his social qualities and pastoral work he drew around him, in each of his Circuits, a circle of admiring and faithful friends. He was especially attractive to young people, teaching them how to read and think, and being skilful to lead them to an intelligent appreciation of the inspired Word of God. A diligent and prayerful student of the Bible, he became an excellent theologian. In the pulpit he was a master: he presented truth with remarkable clearness, precision, and strength of language. As a teacher of experimental religion, he has rarely been excelled. His power of keen analysis, enabling him to trace the deeper movements of the human heart, was among the most distinguished of his gifts; and his hearers were often surprised by finding the truth directly applied to the most secret things of their spiritual life; its claims being at the same time enforced by powerful argument, and an all but irresistible tenderness of appeal. In the year 1867, he was compelled, by growing infirmities, to retire from the active ministry, an event which was marked, on the part of the Conference, by a special recognition in its Minutes of his great services. He then wrote to a friend:—"I have the firm conviction of reason and faith, that all is ordered by my Heavenly Father wisely and well. I have no other ground of reliance but the covenant blood and promises; all is clear and sure, and I have a firm faith in the purifying power of the Holy Spirit to make me meet for the inheritance." The last year of his life was spent in extreme feebleness; but suffering was borne with patience, and the joy of the Lord was his strength. He died at Great-Crosby, near Liverpool, on Sunday, April 4th, 1869, in the sixty-ninth year of his age, and the forty-seventh of his ministry.

(16.) Walter Hussey; who was born in the city of Chester, in the year 1793. Early in life he was brought to religious decision, and experienced a saving change. His piety from the beginning was marked and fervent. He entered the ministry in 1824, and laboured with much acceptance in various Circuits for thirteen years, when his health failed so far as to incapacitate him for the full work of a Circuit. As a Supernumerary, however, he was for many years able to render highly-valued service by preaching occasionally; and, as an affectionate and earnest Pastor and Class-leader, he continued to the last to devote himself to the cause of Christ and His Church. His consistent life, the devoutness of his spirit, and his kindly interest in the sick and poor, greatly endeared him to many. He was particularly happy in presenting evangelical truth, and administering the consolations of religion to the dying and the bereaved. After much suffering he died at Derby, May 1st, 1869, aged seventy-six. His last charge to the Superintendent of the Circuit was,—"When the Lord shall take me hence, let nothing be said of me in public, save that I lived and died in the happy assurance of God's favour and love through Christ Jesus."

(17.) William Wilson (B); who was born at Sunderland, in 1802. His early years were spent at sea, and the fatal fall of a sailor from the rigging of his ship produced impressions which, under the influence of the Holy Spirit, led to his conversion. He shortly afterwards commenced preaching, and was made useful. At the Conference of 1827 he was received on trial for the Methodist ministry. He was possessed of a kind heart, and a devout spirit; earnestness of purpose, and firmness of will; a good judgment, and great prudence. As a preacher he was careful in preparation, plain in language, clear in style; and his sermons, which were practical in their tendency, were often attended with much unction. He was an extensive and careful reader, and a close thinker. As a Pastor few have laboured more faithfully or judiciously. Large-heartedness was a marked feature of his character. Ardently loving his Saviour, he cherished the kindliest affection for all who loved the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Failing health compelled him to retire from the full work of the ministry at the Conference of 1868; but change and rest proved of little service. The happy state of his mind was, however, constantly evinced during his affliction. Three weeks before his death he said to his beloved wife and daughters, "I am about to leave you, but the separation will not be long; brief, very brief. But O, how glorious! the harbour, the haven of rest, is before me." His last words, in the midst of a severe and prolonged struggle, were, "So happy — happy. Christ Jesus is all my hope; He is all my desire." He departed this life May 14th, 1869, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the forty-second of his ministry.

(18.) Joseph Wood; who was born at Banwell, February 3d, 1797. The earnest prayers of his godly parents were signally answered in his conversion at the age of eleven years. Early in his religious life he saw it to be his privilege to be "sanctified wholly;" and after earnest wrestling with God, he obtained that deeper work of grace which so greatly fitted him for the ministry to which he was subsequently called, and on which he entered in the year 1826. Supreme love to God, and fervent zeal for the salvation of souls, characterized the whole of his ministerial course. His preaching was full of evangelical truth, his style clear, his manner affectionate and winning, and his appeals to the consciences of his hearers powerful. As a Pastor, he excelled in diligent visitation of the sick, the aged, and the poor; and, in the prosecution of such hallowed toil, did not shrink from contact with dangerous and infectious diseases. He had a very accurate knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, which he several times read through in the original languages; but he carefully avoided all display of learning; and, though delighting in study, was content to forego many of its pleasures in order to meet the claims of his pastoral work. Blessed with a vigorous constitution, he was "in labours more abundant;" and, both in the pulpit and out of doors, wherever he could gather a congregation, preached "all the words of this life." In 1862, his health failing, he became a Supernumerary, and took up his residence in Bristol; where he engaged in earnest pastoral and preaching work, so long as his strength permitted. In his growing feebleness and suffering he bowed submissively to the Divine will, saying, "Even so, Father; for so it seemeth good in Thy sight." Towards the close of life he was affected with partial paralysis, and his mental powers were so much weakened, that he could scarcely recognise his friends: but still he would speak of "the preciousness of Jesus," and urge those about him, whom he supposed to form his class or his congregation, to the acceptance of a "full salvation," earnestly praying for "the Church, the nation, and the world." He died June 23d, 1869, in the seventy-third year of his age, and the forty-third of his ministry. His last words were, "I shall reign with Him upon His throne. Hallelujah!"

(19.) William Goodacre Duncan; who was born at Gainsborough, in the year 1809, and died at Leighton-

Buzzard, June 29th, 1869. His parents "feared the Lord greatly," and strove to bring up their children in "the good and the right way." His mother, to whom he was more than ordinarily attached, and who exerted a powerful religious influence over him in childhood, was called to her reward when he was about eleven years old. During a revival of religion in his native town, in his fifteenth year, he gave his heart to God, and at once began heartily to employ his talents in promoting the religious welfare of others. When in his twenty-first year, he was induced, through the counsel of the late Dr. Hannah, to offer himself for the work of the Wesleyan ministry. For more than thirty years he laboured in the itinerancy with acceptance and success. As a Christian he was remarkably frank, straightforward, and cheerful. As a Minister he was greatly beloved. His preaching was plain, evangelical, and useful. His attachment to Methodism was strong; and few men, probably, have more fully enjoyed the confidence and love both of the Ministers and people with whom he came into contact. His Christian profession was maintained with unimpeachable consistency: he served God with "a single eye." In the administration of our discipline he conducted himself with uniform kindness. His death was sudden. On the day before it occurred, he wrote to a friend, "I preached with more ease on Sunday, and felt stronger after the services than I have done for some time. I hope to be prepared for the work which the Lord has yet for me to do." He continued his ordinary occupations during the day as usual, but, on rising from his knees, before retiring to rest, was seized with apoplexy, which terminated his life in a few hours. He sleeps in Jesus, waiting for the resurrection of the just.

(20.) Charles Hawthorne; who was born at Falmouth, September 6th, 1789. He was blest with the prayers and counsels of a godly mother. When about sixteen years of age he was deeply convinced of sin, and shortly afterwards, at a Class-meeting, realized an assurance of the Divine favour and the renewing power of the Holy Ghost. Constrained by the love of Christ, he began to call sinners to repentance; and, encouraged and directed by Dr. Coke, he was led to offer himself as a candidate for our ministry, and received an appointment to a Circuit at the Conference of 1812. He was heartily attached to the doctrines and polity of Wesleyan Methodism. His public labours were highly acceptable. He placed the leading truths and facts of the Gospel before his congregations with remarkable clearness and force, and his ministry generally was at once edifying and impressive, encouraging and successful. It resulted, in a high degree, in most of the Circuits in which he laboured, in winning souls to Christ, and in the establishment of believers in faith and holiness. He administered the discipline of the Connexion with mingled firmness and kindness, and, in times of peculiar perplexity and trial, displayed much sagacity, courage, and Christian temper. His cheerful piety secured to him the affection of the people among whom he lived. After labouring in various Circuits for the lengthened period of fifty-one years, he became a Supernumerary, and settled in Snaith. In his comparative retirement he made himself useful in various ways, and his uniform testimony was, "I am a happy old man." It was not until within the last two years that signs of failing health became apparent. During his illness he was eminently patient and resigned; and he met death with the composure and confidence of one who was firmly grounded on the "Rock of Ages." As expressive of his joyous anticipations of future blessedness, he quoted the stanza :—

> "I shall behold His face,
> I shall His power adore,
> And sing the wonders of His grace
> For evermore."

He died, Tuesday, July 6th, 1869, in the eightieth year of his age, and the fifty-seventh of his ministry.

(21.) Nehemiah Curnock (a); who was born in Bristol, in the year 1810. In childhood he was well instructed in the Holy Scriptures, and was made "wise unto salvation." He joined the Society in his thirteenth year, and began to preach at a very early age. A favourable opportunity of mental and theological culture being offered to him in the house of a Congregationalist Minister, and subsequently under the care of the late Rev. Walter Scott, at Rowell, Northamptonshire, he gladly availed himself of it; but his deeply-rooted conviction, and bold proclamation, of the freeness and fulness of the Gospel, brought him into collision with his tutors, and he again united himself with the Methodist Society. By the Conference of 1834 he was accepted as a candidate for the itinerancy, and appointed to the Monmouth Circuit. His ministry was characterized by great earnestness and power, was eminently practical and faithful, and was marked by a rich and singularly correct quotation of the "words which the Holy Ghost teacheth." In pastoral intercourse with the people of his charge he was kind and gentle, being especially attentive to the sick, the poor, and the sorrowful. He had a rare gift of attracting the attention of Sabbath scholars; and with apt and abundant illustrations, and extraordinary vigour, conducted services for their benefit. Early in the year he visited a person whose husband had died suddenly in the chapel on the previous Sabbath, and he then took the illness which ended in his death. Up to the week in which he passed away, he indulged the expectation of becoming a Supernumerary, and residing in the Bayswater Circuit; but He "in whose hand our breath is" had otherwise determined. Spasmodic asthma weakened his little remaining strength. Just before his departure he quoted, with great emphasis,—

"My anchor, sure and fast,
Within the veil is cast;
Stands our never-failing hope
Grounded in the holy place;
We shall after Thee mount up,
See the Godhead face to face."

He entered into rest, July 26th 1869, in the fifty-ninth year of his age, and the thirty-fifth of his ministry.

(22.) Frederick Scadding; who was born at Taunton, in the year 1835, and died at May-Bank, in the Newcastle-under-Lyme Circuit, July 26th, 1869. Converted to God in early life, he became a Local preacher when about seventeen years of age, and after labouring with success in that capacity for five years, he was received as a candidate for the ministry. His piety was genuine, unobtrusive, and uniformly consistent. His preaching, which discovered careful preparation, was calm, solemn, and persuasive. After several months of severe affliction, under which, by faith in Christ, his mind was kept in "perfect peace," he died in triumph. His last words were, "It is all right, all right."

(23). WILLIAM J. BULLIVANT; who was born in London. He was converted to God, and entered the Methodist ministry in the year 1832. He laboured, by diligent study, to become "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." His public ministrations were marked by clearness, energy, and affection. His spirit was genial, and his interviews with the people of his charge were edifying and profitable. He laboured with much diligence and success in some of the more laborious Circuits of the Connexion for the space of thirty-five years. At the Conference of 1867 he became a Supernumerary, but continued to render, with great cheerfulness, such service as his failing strength permitted. His end was very sudden. On the night preceding his death, he had retired to rest in his usual health. Shortly after leaving his bed-room on the following day, August 2d, 1869, he became very ill, and in an hour or two peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

N.B.—The obituary notice of the Rev. ISAAC KEELING, who died just before the close of the Conference, will be inserted in the Minutes of 1870.

2. In Ireland, two; viz.,—

(1.) WILLIAM REILLY, who was born at Lucan, February 5th, 1781. Favoured with godly Methodist parentage, he was soon brought under the influence of Gospel truth, and strove for a time to maintain "the form of godliness," and yet avoid what in doctrine and practice he regarded as the peculiarities of a sect, and not essential to a religious life. But after a little he discovered the unsatisfactory results of such an effort, and shut up to the way of salvation by grace through faith, he was brought to submit his heart to Christ. And now he felt the power of His love constraining him to call sinners to repentance. That he possessed talent of no mean order became speedily apparent; that the call of God had reached his heart he could not disguise from himself; and, at the earnest request of his fathers in the Gospel, he consented to become a candidate for the sacred office. Accepted by the Conference in 1810, and appointed to the Irish Mission, he had, while engaged in it, precious opportunities of preaching the truth to numbers of his Roman-Catholic fellow-countrymen, many of whom will be his "joy" and "crown of rejoicing in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at His coming." In after years his ministry was exercised in the largest towns and cities of the country, always with great acceptance, and often with signal success. On behalf of our Missionary enterprise, his impassioned and eloquent advocacy was frequently engaged, and never without beneficial effect. But every good institution had his sympathy and, as far as was practicable, his help. Many of the principal offices of our church he filled, from time to time, with honour to himself and effectively for her interests; and the last great effort of his life was put forth when, in 1856, he was appointed with Dr. Robinson Scott, a deputation to the United States of America on behalf of the fund for the increase of Wesleyan agency in Ireland. In that service he was willing, at the advanced age of seventy-five, to hazard health and life, and in the prosecution of it laboured with surprising energy and with good result. Shortly after his return he became a Supernumerary, and in Queenstown—useful, beloved, and happy—he spent the evening of life, serving the Church of Christ to the utmost of his ability. After enduring months of severe suffering, he met the last enemy with a rare dignity, and with the courage becoming a servant of that faithful Lord who has conquered death. "You are weeping," he said to those who surrounded his bed, "but I am rejoicing:" and just before his departure, he exclaimed, "Glory! Glory! After toil, rest! Afflictions at an end, and for ever! Glory! Glory!" So he died in the full triumph of faith, September 21st, 1868, in the eighty-eighth year of his age, and the fifty-ninth of his ministry. His mental faculties were of a high order, and in happy combination. He had a sound understanding, quick apprehension, a most tenacious memory, and a brilliant imagination. These, with his varied acquirements, his Christian courtesy, his lively wit, his genial disposition, his fine conversational powers, and his unaffected piety, insured him the welcome of many friends wherever he went. He lived in the affections of his family, and maintained ever the most kindly relations with his brethren, whom he loved with a pure and unselfish affection. Modest and retiring, yet was he bold and courageous when occasion required. Truly catholic in his love for good men of every Church, his attachment to the institutions of Methodism was strong, his belief in her doctrines sincere and cordial, and his administration of her discipline faithful though kind. Having read extensively, he was conversant not only with the writings of the best English divines, but with English literature in general. For wealth of thought, clearness of statement, force of argument, beauty of illustration, and tender persuasiveness, many of his sermons were models of evangelical preaching. But he never was the slave of method. He had a heart which put him speedily into sympathy with his congregations, and in its sanctified influence was probably the prime source of his power as a preacher. From overwhelming denunciations of sin, in which his whole force was put forth with unsparing energy, he would pass as "a son of consolation," "to bind up the broken-hearted," and to comfort those that mourned. As a Pastor, he watched with untiring diligence, and not sparing himself, laboured on for the glory of God and the salvation of men for the long space of nigh sixty years. The esteem in which he was held by the community, in the midst of which he died, was manifested in the large number of all classes and creeds who followed his remains to the tomb. Men laid aside their occupations and their prejudices to do the last honours to one whose record is on high.

(2). Henry Price; who was born in Dromore,

January 30th, 1802. He was converted to God in his seventeenth year, and entered the Wesleyan ministry in the year 1823. In spirit he was meek and gentle, in manner kind and courteous; he was in consequence beloved by all who knew him, most warmly by those best acquainted with him. A childlike simplicity, a transparent sincerity, an uprightness which scorned to countenance anything low or mean, the humility which "vaunteth not itself, and is not puffed up," a charity "which thinketh no evil," an unselfishness which "seeketh not her own," highly adorned his character. He was truly "sincere and without offence;" "an Israelite indeed, in whom there was no guile;" "an example of the believers in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity." As an advocate for Christian Missions his addresses were remarkably powerful and effective; as a preacher he was able. Judicious both in the selection of his subjects and in his mode of treating them, "he was mighty in the Scriptures," reasoning out of them, and sustaining all his statements with appropriate and convincing quotations from the law and the testimony. In him the claims of our Redeemer-God to the entire devotion of His ransomed people found an advocate of uncompromising faithfulness and power; while the sufficiency and freeness of the Gospel were by him placed in a light so clear, and were asserted with such authority, as to invite the confidence of the self-condemned. In many of the Circuits in which he exercised his instructive and edifying ministry, he was favoured with "times of refreshing" coming "from the presence of the Lord." He was truly "a workman that needed not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth;" a vigilant shepherd, watching for souls, as one who felt he had a strict account to render to the Shepherd and Bishop of souls; and in the day of Christ, many, who will be his "joy and crown of rejoicing," will testify that he did not run in vain, neither labour in vain. He was specially attentive to the sick and afflicted, and his visits to them were frequent, sympathizing, and consolatory. He was truly a "brother beloved," and his brethren manifested their high appreciation of his character and talents by electing him repeatedly to fill offices of the greatest trust and responsibility; and on all occasions he proved himself most worthy of their esteem and confidence. He had the honour of being the first who, in accordance with the action of the British Conference of 1867, was, as nominee of the Irish Conference, included in the Delegation; which appointment he held at the time of his death. He was not prone to speculate, nor much disposed to originate plans of action; but was extremely cautious, eminently practical, and, while sometimes differing from his brethren in judgment, he never failed to carry out every arrangement intrusted to his care, in its most minute details, with an almost punctilious exactness. Never had the Methodist Conference a more faithful son, or a Minister of greater singleness of aim, purity of intention, or exemplary fidelity. For some months before his lamented decease, his health had been gradually failing; disease of the heart, under which he had been labouring for years, was assuming an aggravated character. He preached twice on Sabbath, April 25th, and on that day week he was seized with an attack of paralysis, which deprived him of the power of speech. He lingered until the following Tuesday week, when at midnight the cry was heard; and with his loins girt, and his lamp burning, he went forth to meet his Lord; and being ready, went in with Him to "the marriage-supper of the Lamb." This good and faithful servant of Christ exchanged mortality for life eternal on May 11th, 1869, in the sixty-eighth year of his age, and the forty-sixth of his ministry.

3. In our Foreign Missions, two; viz.,—

(1.) Don Andris Ferdinando; who was born at Morotto, September 30th, 1827, and died at Goddapitiya, November 13th, 1868. His conversion took place at Colpetty, while under the care of the late Rev. Daniel J. Gogerly, and was soon followed by an earnest desire to be useful to his countrymen. At first he was appointed as an Assistant to the Rev. P. G. de Zylva, in the Morotto Circuit, by whom he had been instructed in Divine things and led to the Saviour. He was afterwards employed in the full work of a Minister, and at Wattalpola, Belligam, and Goddapitiya laboured with untiring zeal and devotion, his work being greatly owned of God. His later years were remarkable for his rapid growth in grace, and for his increasing usefulness and liberality. As a proof of the latter, it may be mentioned that, at the close of the seventh year of his ministry, he presented the whole of his stipend for that year as a thank-offering to the Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society. He was entirely unacquainted with English; but he wrote two valuable tracts, one of which obtained a prize, offered by the Christian Vernacular Education Society, and shows that he possessed great reasoning powers. Amidst the lamentations of his flock, and the sincere grief of his brethren, he was early removed to his rest. But his works "do follow him." "I am going to my Father in heaven," were the last words he uttered.

(2.) WILLIAM A. KERR, Assistant Missionary; who died at St. George's, Grenada, March 16th, 1869, in the twenty-third year of his age. In great and protracted suffering he exemplified patience and resignation; and, undisturbed by doubts or fears, and resting on the Atonement, died in great peace. His last words were, "Glory, glory."

5. In accordance with a suggestion of the General Committee, the Conference appoints the following persons to be a Committee to inquire and report to the General Committee, at its meeting prior to the Conference of 1870, whether any, and what steps, can be taken to make better provision for the education of the daughters of our Ministers, viz.:—The President and the Secretary of the Conference, the Treasurers and Secretaries of the Schools' Fund, the Treasurers and Secretaries of the Children's Fund, the Revs. Dr. Osborn, Charles Prest, G. T. Perks, L. H. Wiseman, and J. W. Greeves, with Sir Francis Lycett, and Messrs. J. S. Budgett, John Chubb, T. P. Bunting, W. Pearce, W. W. Pocock, J. Vanner, S. D. Waddy, Thomas Pethick, Francis Heeley, and H. H. Fowler.

6. The Conference adopts the following rules in relation to the Schools :—

(1.) Considering that the age at which the boys have been accustomed to leave school is the most important and valuable for the purposes of education, it is agreed that none shall henceforth be admitted into the schools under nine years of age, and that they may remain the usual term of six years. Should parents prefer it, their sons may be admitted at ten years, and remain until sixteen years of age.

(2.) In any case where the Educational Allowance has been received by the parent, the claim upon the Schools' Fund shall be understood to have been met and satisfied for that year.

(3.) In all cases of an additional year being granted, on payment, to boys who have not been at school six years, the sum of £25 shall be paid, which sum shall be inclusive of the £6 6s. from the Children's Fund; but in all cases of request for a year additional to the six years, the Committee shall be satisfied that the character and diligence of the applicants are such as to render their return to the school advantageous to the other boys, and in such cases the payment shall be £30 inclusive of the £6 6s.

(4.) In future, the Competition for Scholarships and Medals shall be restricted to those boys who have been not more than six years at one of the schools.

(5.) For the convenience of the officers of the Fund, the payment for education to both boys and girls shall commence at nine years instead of eight years, and be continued until fifteen years; the ninth year to be reckoned from the Christmas before payment.

HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND.

Q. XVII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference in reference to the HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of the Committee of Management, and of the Army and Navy Committee; and directs that the Resolutions passed by the General Committee, and the Army Returns, be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendixes, Nos. IV. and IX.)

2. The Conference regards the growing dangers to which the religion of Protestants is exposed in our country, and the favourable and responsible position in which Methodists are placed, to proclaim the doctrines, and to develop the spiritual and evangelical objects, of the Reformation, as powerful motives to multiply faithful preachers of God's Word in every part of the land; and it urges our people to pray that more labourers may be thrust forth into our towns and villages; and also, as the Lord hath prospered them, to provide means for the sustentation of these Ministers while engaged in raising self-supporting churches.

3. The Conference cannot regard any auxiliary methods to improve public morals, however valuable, as substitutes for the direct endeavours of the members of our Societies, and office-bearers, to save the souls of their neighbours by methods as simple and spiritual as those by which Methodism gained much of its earliest success; and it trusts that such means will be more extensively employed in places in which Home-Missionary Ministers are not stationed, as well as in places to which they are appointed.

4. Public Meetings and Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations.—The Conference rejoices to know that the Public Meetings held in behalf of our Home Missions have ministered to the edification and zeal of our people; that in some of our leading Circuits a Meeting has been held, during the year, in every Chapel, with great advantage to the Fund; and that, in some other Circuits, where only one Annual Meeting formerly took place, two or three Meetings have been recently convened. The Conference is convinced that the multiplication of these Meetings would be an effective auxiliary means of quickening the prayerful concern of our Societies and congregations for the conversion of their neighbours, as well as of their countrymen at large; and it strongly recommends that such Meetings should be held in all our principal Chapels. The Conference is glad to know also that there has been a gratifying increase in the number of Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations during the year, and it entertains the hope that these useful Associations—aiding at once our Home and Foreign Missions—will be established in all our Circuits.

The Conference is decidedly of opinion, that wherever sums, large or small, are collected avowedly for the Foreign or Home Missions, the whole amount should be remitted to the Treasurers of these Funds respectively, to be administered under the direction of their Committees; and that sums so remitted to the Home-Mission Fund should entitle a Circuit to favourable consideration, if it request a grant for any effort within its boundaries which may be a legitimate object for the application of moneys collected for Home-Missions. (Minutes, 1863.)

On this subject the following modification has been made :—

In the case of Circuits which are not in a position to ask for the appointment of a Home-Missionary Minister, and to give the pledge required, but which feel the necessity of adopting some plan of Home-Missionary operations, the subjoined allocation shall be allowed :—

One-third of the sums received by Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations, to be paid to the Funds of the Foreign Missionary Society, "it being expressly understood that in every case the contribution to the Foreign Missions shall be at least equal to what has been presented from Christmas Offerings, on the average of several preceding years :"

One-third to the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund :

One-third to the Circuit, to be expended in support of local movements of a directly Home-Missionary character, under the direction of the Superintendent, and of a Committee to be appointed at the December Quarterly Meeting.

In all other cases the former Minute of the Conference remains in force.

5. The Conference deems it expedient to reprint the following Rule from the Minutes of 1797 :—

"That all bills for the support of travelling preachers and their families, in respect to deficiencies, house-rent, fire, candles, sickness, travelling expenses, and all other matters of a temporal kind for their support, for which the Circuits cannot provide, shall first meet with the approbation of the Quarterly Meeting, and be signed by the General Steward of the Circuit,* before they can be brought to the District Committee."

6. John Vanner, Esq., and the Rev. John W. Greeves are re-appointed the Treasurers; the Rev. Charles Prest the General Secretary; and the Rev.

N.B. (1.) Should any member of this Committee be unable to attend the Meeting on Monday, July 18th, prior to the assembling of the next Conference, early notice should be sent to the PRESIDENT, who has authority to appoint a substitute.

(2.) The Superintendents are requested to obtain the private Subscriptions in the month of May or June; and to send the lists to the REV. HENRY H. CHETTLE, Woodhouse-Grove, Apperley-Bridge, near Leeds, and pay the Subscriptions to their respective Financial Secretaries.

Whereas a Deed Poll was executed by the late Rev. J. Wesley, on the 28th day of February, 1784, and enrolled in Chancery on the 9th day of March, 1784, wherein the said Rev. J. Wesley did declare the meaning of the words "Yearly Conference of the people called Methodists;" and whereas, in order to make a provision for old and worn-out Ministers of the aforesaid Conference, a Benefit Society was instituted in the year 1798, which has ever since been known as the "Itinerant Methodist Preachers' Annuitant Society;" and whereas, in the year 1799, the subscriptions formerly contributed by laymen to the said Annuitant Society were directed by the Conference to be kept distinct from the annual subscriptions of the Ministers to the said Society, and to be formed into an Auxiliary Fund which should be administered by a Committee appointed by the said Conference, and which Auxiliary Fund should be applicable according to the exigencies of particular cases to the relief, not only of Wesleyan Supernumerary Ministers and of the Widows of Wesleyan Ministers, but also of the children of Wesleyan Ministers; and whereas, for some years past, a Fund has been gradually accumulating, arising from special donations and legacies given for the benefit of the said Auxiliary Fund; and whereas divers persons are, or may be, desirous of promoting the increase of the said Auxiliary Fund by making Donations and Bequests of money; with a view to the facilitating the execution of such intention, it hath been deemed expedient that a Board should be constituted to be called "The Trustees of the Investment Fund of the Wesleyan-Methodist Worn-out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows' Auxiliary Fund," and that such Trusts should be declared of and concerning such Donations and Bequests as aforesaid, as are declared in the Draft of Deed herein (or hereafter) mentioned. It is accordingly resolved,—

(1.) That a Board, to be called "The Trustees of the Investment Fund of the Wesleyan-Methodist Worn-Out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows' Auxiliary Fund," be, and is hereby constituted.

(2.) That the Draft of the Deed now produced and endorsed, "Draft of Deed declaring the Trusts of Funds given or bequeathed to the Trustees for the Investment Fund of the Wesleyan-Methodist Worn-out Ministers and Ministers' Widows' Auxiliary Fund," and signed by the President, be, and is hereby approved.

(3.) That the Rev. Messrs. Elijah Hoole, D.D., J. Rattenbury, Henry H. Chettle, with Messrs. John Napier and Greaves Walker, be, and are hereby appointed first Trustees for the said purposes.

EDUCATION.

Q. XX. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of WESLEYAN EDUCATION?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of the Special Meeting of the General Education Committee, held in Hull, on Monday, July 26th; and directs that it be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix VIII.)

2. The Conference has learned with much thankfulness that during the past year there has been an increase of 16 Day-schools, and 8,990 Day-scholars; and of 86 Sunday-schools, and 19,781 Sunday-scholars.

3. The Conference, acting upon the recommendation of the General Committee, directs that for the coming year the REV. J. CLULOW, in consultation with the Education Committee, shall pay special attention to the Day-schools in any part of the Connexion visited by him, in order that their practical relation to Methodism may be more clearly ascertained, and a Report on the subject be presented to the Conference of 1870.

4. A Draft of Rules for Circuit Sunday-School Unions having been presented by the General Committee, the Conference directs that a copy of the Draft shall be forwarded to every Superintendent Minister in Great Britain, who, after such consultation with his colleagues as he may deem advisable, shall return it, with any suggestions, to the REV. J. CLULOW, not later than February 1st, 1870; and that the General Committee shall report thereon to the next Conference.

5. The Conference having learned with much regret that in many parts of the country Clergymen and others continue to refuse instruction in National Schools to the children of Wesleyan Methodists, unless such children also attend the Sunday-schools of the Established Church, affirms its conviction that the enforcement of an adequate Conscience Clause, in all schools receiving Parliamentary Grants for building or maintenance, is essential to the due protection of the liberties of the people; and directs the General Committee to take measures for urging this subject on the attention of Her Majesty's Government.

6. The Conference, whilst acknowledging the great liberality with which the case of the New Chapel at Westminster has been taken up by many gentlemen in different parts of the Connexion, and by some Districts and Circuits, cannot but express its regret that a case which is of such Connexional importance, and which has so rightful a claim on the sympathy and support of the Connexion at large, has hitherto failed to secure a general and adequate response.

In view of the great urgency of the case, and of the long period during which, with the sanction of the Conference, it has been before the Connexion, the Conference directs that every Superintendent shall take measures, without delay, for bringing the claims of the Chapel before the leading friends, and also, as far as may be practicable, before the Congregations within his Circuit, except in those Circuits where this has been already done; from many of which, however, it is hoped that further contributions may be received.

The Conference further resolves that the subject shall be made a special part of the business of the September District Meetings, at which Meetings definite arrangements shall be made for bringing the case forward in the respective Circuits, whether by local deputations or otherwise; and that a particular account shall be rendered at the May District Meetings of what has been done in each Circuit during the year.

7. In the prospect of proposed legislation on the subject of Primary Education, the Conference requests the President of the Conference, if he should deem it necessary, in the course of the year, to summon a Special United Meeting of the Education Committee, the Committee of Privileges, and the Committee of Exigency; and to invite thereto such Ministers and Laymen as, in consultation with the above-named Committees, he may select.

8. The General Committee having submitted certain proposed changes in the mode of conducting the Annual Examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge, the Conference directs that their proposals shall be referred to the several District Meetings in May next, who shall report thereon to the General Committee not later than the 24th of May.

The Conference further directs that the Examination for the coming year shall be held on the first Saturday in March, 1870; that the questions shall be prepared by the General Committee; that the Examination shall be held, either in the several Circuits by the Superintendent Ministers or their colleagues, or at suitable places for Central District Examinations, as may be determined by the September District Meetings, and agreed to by the respective School Committees; and that two Examiners of the answers given in each District (of whom the District Educational Secretary shall be one) shall be appointed by the Financial District Meeting.

9. John Robinson Kay, Esq. and the Rev. John Vine are re-appointed the Treasurers, and the Rev. George W. Olver, B.A. is re-appointed the Secretary.

N.B. All communications are to be addressed to the Rev. George W. Olver, B.A., Wesleyan Normal Institution, Horseferry-Road, Westminster.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE OF THE LORD'S DAY.

Q. XXI. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on receiving the Report of the Lord's-Day Committee?

A. 1. The Conference receives with satisfaction the Report which has been presented by the Sabbath Committee; it rejoices that the attempt made in the British Legislature to throw open on the Lord's Day certain public Institutions supported by general taxation has again been unsuccessful. It cordially approves the proposal to afford greater facilities for the improvement and gratification of the Working Classes by opening the British Museum and National Galleries on Week-day Evenings; and earnestly hopes that arrangements to accomplish so desirable an object will be speedily effected.

2. The Conference regrets that the efforts which have been made by the friends of Sabbath observance, during several years past, to restrict yet further the Sunday sale of Intoxicating Liquors have not hitherto been successful; it learns with satisfaction that in the thorough reconsideration of the licensing system now existing in this country, to which the Government have pledged themselves at the earliest opportunity, the question of the opening of Public-houses on the Lord's-day is to be included, and trusts that it may issue in establishing the practicability of an extension of restrictive legislation; it strongly recommends that, should any well-considered and judicious measure be introduced into Parliament during the year, our people will give it that general and vigorous support which its importance may demand, and hopes that in this, and in all other ways, all the members of our Societies will ever seek to uphold in its integrity the Divine claims of that sacred day, the due observance of which is so essential to the interests of the community at large.

3. The thanks of the Conference are presented to the Rev. George Maunder and the Rev. John Baker for their valuable services during the past year; and they are re-appointed the Secretaries of the Lord's Day Committee for the ensuing year.

The following Ministers and Gentlemen shall be the Committee for the next year:—The President and the Secretary of the Conference; the Ex-President; the Secretaries,

THE FERNLEY LECTURE.

John Fernley, Esq., of Southport, having proposed to found an Annual Sermon, or Lectureship, in connection with the Conference, for the purpose of explaining and defending the theological doctrines, or the ecclesiastical polity, of the Wesleyan-Methodist Connexion, with special reference and adaptation to the necessities of the times, and with a view to the benefit of the Candidates who are about to be ordained by the Conference to the ministry, and also the Laymen who usually attend the Conference Committees, and having submitted the proposed Deed of Foundation of such Sermon or Lectureship,—

It was resolved,—That the Conference gratefully accepts the proposal of Mr. Fernley; approves the Draft Deed of Foundation now produced; requests the President to sign such Deed; and instructs the several officers of the Connexion, who by the same Deed will be members of the Board of Management, to act upon such Board accordingly.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONFERENCE IN THE CASE OF THE REV. THOMAS HUGHES.

I. The Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Manchester and Bolton District-Committee were read, from which it appeared that Mr. Hughes had published a work entitled, "The Condition of Membership in the Christian Church, viewed in connection with the Class-Meeting System in the Methodist Body." The District Committee resolved:—

1. That the publication by a Methodist Minister of such a volume, challenging as it does before the world the ancient and established order of Methodism with relation to the Class-Meeting, is a serious breach of ministerial propriety, and of loyalty to the Connexion.

2. That the conduct of Mr. Hughes in attempting to attach to Methodism the odium of recognising no membership in the Christian Church beyond that created by membership in the Methodist Society, is highly injurious and censurable.

3. That the principles which Mr. Hughes has laid down for the constitution of a true Christian Church, while they are illiberal and impracticable, are distinctly at variance with the spirit and teaching of Holy Scripture.

4. That, though we do not impute to Mr. Hughes a deliberate intention to disparage the Class-Meeting as a means of grace, the course which he has followed is calculated to be detrimental, not only to our system of discipline, but to the spiritual and evangelistic interests of Methodism.

5. The District Committee further resolved,—

(1.) That the time between now and the Conference be granted to Mr. Hughes, for the purpose of reconsidering the course which he has adopted.

(2.) That Mr. Hughes be required to give a pledge to the District Meeting that he will abstain in the meantime from all agitation of the questions discussed in his volume.

(3.) That, if Mr. Hughes shall continue of the same mind, the District Meeting respectfully refers it to the Conference to determine what further proceedings shall be taken in the matter; but is of opinion that should Mr. Hughes so continue, he will thereby eventually disqualify himself for further ministerial connection with the Conference.

II. The Conference appointed a Committee to consider the case, and, after hearing Mr. Hughes at length, adopted the Report of that Committee, to the following effect; viz.,—

1. The Committee recommends that the Minutes of the Manchester and Bolton District Meeting be confirmed.

2. The Committee regards the publication of the volume in question as a serious violation of Mr. Hughes's solemn professions frequently renewed, and by his brethren accepted in good faith, inasmuch as it attacks a vital part of our discipline, and advocates plans at variance therewith; and the Committee feels bound to maintain that when a Minister in any Church, still holding his appointment and enjoying its benefits, publishes a book assailing principles without assenting to which he could not have gained such appointment, or enjoyed such benefits, a grave offence is committed against public faith and honour.

3. In the judgment of this Committee, Mr. Hughes ought to stay the further publication of his book, so long as he seeks to be recognised and accredited as a Minister in connection with the Methodist Conference.

4. The Committee recommends that Mr. Hughes be declared incapable of holding the office of Superintendent, while he maintains his present views on this subject, and that a special report of his conduct be presented to the next Conference.

COMPENDIUM OF REGULATIONS FOR THE METHODIST SOCIETIES.

The following Compendium of Regulations, appended to the Rules of the Society in the Class-books, by direction of the Conference of 1864, having been previously approved by nearly all the Quarterly Meetings in Great Britain, is now republished in the Minutes for general convenience:—

I. RULES RELATING TO MEMBERS.

1. No Preacher shall give notes (admitting persons on trial) to any but those who are recommended by one he knows, or till they have met three or four times in class. It is the Leader's duty to give them the "Rules of the Society" the first time they meet.

2. Neither the Superintendents, nor any other Preachers, shall give tickets to any, till they are recommended by a Leader with whom they have met, at least two months, on trial.

3. The Leaders'-Meeting has a right to declare any person on trial improper to be received into the Society; and after such declaration, the Superintendent shall not admit such person into Society.

This Rule is expounded by the Conference in the terms following:—"That it never was intended that the names of all those who are on trial should be laid before a Leaders'-Meeting for distinct and formal discussion; but solely, that if there be, in the opinion of a Leader, any reasonable objection to the character and conduct of any person who is on trial, such objection may be stated by him; and that, if the validity of the objection be established to the satisfaction of the Meeting, a member's Ticket shall not be given to the person so objected to at the Quarterly Visitation." (Minutes of 1842.)

4. Let no Member removing from one Circuit to another be received into Society without a Note of Removal, signed by one of the Itinerant Preachers in the Circuit whence he has come.*

5. The far greater number of those that are separated from us exclude themselves by neglecting to meet in class, and to use the other means of grace, and so gradually forsake us. With regard to others, the foregoing "Rules of the Society" prescribe the general course to be pursued:—"If there be any among us who observe them not, who habitually break any of them, let it be made known unto them who watch over that soul, as they that must give an account. We will admonish him of the error of his ways: we will bear with him for a season. But then, if he repent not, he hath no more place among us. We have delivered our own souls."

* Members removing from Circuit to Circuit are affectionately exhorted to avail themselves of the regular Note of Removal. Otherwise, as many painful examples show, great spiritual loss is likely to be suffered.

6. No person shall be expelled from the Society till his offence has been proved to the satisfaction of a Leaders'-Meeting; which Meeting is also entitled to declare, by its verdict, whether the facts alleged are or are not violations of the laws of God, or of our own body. No sentence of expulsion shall be pronounced till at least one week after the trial of a person accused. Meanwhile the Superintendent shall seek the fullest information from individual Leaders, and other judicious and experienced Members of the Society; and shall also confer with his colleagues at their Weekly Meeting. In the case of an alleged violation of the peace and order of the Society, a second hearing before a special Circuit-Meeting may be claimed by the Superintendent, or by the person complained of, should either be dissatisfied with the decision of the Leaders'-Meeting. Every expelled Member has a right of appeal to a Minor District Meeting, to the Annual District Meeting, and to the Conference.

7. Let every other meeting of the Society be for the Members of the Society only; and let no strangers be admitted. Let no person attend any Lovefeast without a Society Ticket, or a Note from the Preacher.

8. Let all the Members of the Society show their tickets; and if the Stewards and Leaders are not exact, others must be employed that have more resolution.

9. Let no Lovefeast he held but with the consent of the Superintendent.

Of Public Worship and Sacraments.

1. Wherever Divine service is performed in England on the Lord's day in "Church-hours," the officiating Preacher shall read either the Service of the Church, our venerable Father's Abridgment of it, or, at least, the Lessons appointed by the Calendar. But we recommend either the full Service or the Abridgment; or, where neither is used, the reading of the Psalms in connection with the Morning Lessons. At every public religious service at least one chapter of the Holy Scriptures shall be read before the sermon is preached.

2. We strongly recommend it to all our people to kneel at prayer; and we desire that all our pews may, as far as possible, be so formed as to admit of this in the easiest manner. We request that all our chapels be furnished with hassocks, or with kneeling-boards; so that every excuse may be taken away from those who persist in the irreverent and unscriptural custom of sitting while at prayer.

3. We strongly urge on the congregations the propriety and importance of standing while they sing the praises of God. Let the original, simple, grave, and devotional style be carefully preserved; which, instead of drawing attention to the singing and the singers, is so admirably calculated to withdraw it from both, and to raise the soul to God only.

4. The Lord's Supper shall always be administered in England according to the form of the Established Church: but the person who administers shall have liberty to give out hymns, to use exhortation, and extemporary prayer. The administration of baptism, and the burial of the dead, shall be determined by the same regulations. At baptism, both parents are expected to be present.

5. No person shall be suffered, on any pretence, to partake of the Lord's Supper among us, unless he be a Member of Society, or receive a note of admission from the Superintendent, (or from the Preacher administering,) which note must be renewed quarterly.

6. Let no funeral sermon be preached without the consent of the Superintendent.

Of Conformity to the World.

The Rules of the Society forbid "diversions" which "cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus;" and the drinking of spirituous liquors, "unless in cases of extreme necessity." The obligation to "do all to the glory of God" implies an avoiding of all questionable recreations and indulgences; in particular, of such as lead into worldly company, or promote trifling, or indispose for the use of the word of God and prayer.

The repeated regulations of the Conference against dancing are clearly intended to condemn the practice, not only in schools and among pupils, but among Methodists at large. They fall within the Scriptural requirements, that Christians "abstain from all appearance of evil," and, instead of approaching as nearly as possible to the fashions and customs of the ungodly, "come out from among them, and be separate."

Of Sabbath-keeping.

All members of the Society are required to observe the holy Sabbath with religious care; in accordance with the oft-repeated advices and directions of the Conference, and, above all, with the abiding precepts of God's word.

Of Marriage.

Some of our Members have married with ungodly persons. This has had fatal effects. They have either had a cross for life, or turned back to the world. To put a stop to this, every Preacher is enjoined to enforce frequently the Apostle's caution, "Be ye not unequally yoked." Let all single persons be reminded of the injunction to marry "only in the Lord;" and exhorted to take no step in so weighty a matter, without taking counsel of their parents, and advising with the most serious of their Christian friends.

Of Commercial Failures.

1. To prevent scandal, whenever any Member of Society becomes a bankrupt, or compounds with his creditors, the Superintendent and one of the Stewards shall talk with him at large. If a formal investigation be considered needful, a Committee shall be chosen by the Leaders'-Meeting for that purpose, on the nomination of the Superintendent; to consist of two or more competent persons, Members of Society, who may or may not be Members of the Leaders'-Meeting; the Superintendent to be the Chairman. If, on receiving their report, the Meeting shall conclude that fair accounts have not been kept, or that liabilities have been incurred without a reasonable probability of meeting them, the Superintendent shall proceed according to rule.

2. On the appointment of such Committee in the case of any Leader, Local-Preacher, or Steward, the exercise of his functions shall be discontinued until his case is decided.

If any of our Members, who have formerly failed in business, shall afterwards, by the blessing of God, have acquired property, it is their plain duty to pay their whole debt.

Of Loyalty, and Subjection to the Government.

None of us shall, either in writing or conversation, speak lightly or irreverently of the Government under which he lives. The oracles of God command us to "be subject unto the higher powers;" and "honour to the King" is there connected with the "fear of God."

Of Days of Fasting.

A general Fast shall be held in all our Societies the first Friday after New-Year's day; after Lady-day; after Midsummer-day; and after Michaelmas-day.

II. RULES RELATING TO OFFICERS OF THE SOCIETIES.

Of Leaders.

No person shall be appointed a Leader, or be removed from his office, but in conjunction with a Leaders'-Meeting; the nomination to be with the Superintendent, and the approval or disapproval with the Leaders'-Meeting.

Of Stewards.

1. No person shall be appointed a Society-Steward, or Poor-Steward, or be removed from his office, but in conjunction with a Leaders'-Meeting; the nomination to be with the Superintendent, and the approval or disapproval with the Leaders'-Meeting.

2. The office of a Steward ceases at the end of the year; and no Steward shall remain in office above three years in succession, except in some extraordinary case.

3. Circuit-Stewards are to be appointed at a Quarterly-Meeting; the nomination being with the Superintendent, and the approval or disapproval with the Meeting.

4. Circuit-Stewards are members of the Financial District-Meeting; and have also a right to attend the Annual Meeting of the District Committee during the transaction of certain parts of its business.

Of Local-Preachers.

1. The Superintendent shall regularly meet the Local-Preachers once a quarter; and no person shall receive a plan as a Local-Preacher, or be suffered to preach among us as such, without the approval of that Meeting. Or, if in any Circuit a regular Local-Preachers'-Meeting cannot be held, they shall be proposed and approved at the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit.

2. All Local-Preachers shall meet in class. No exception shall be made in respect to any who have been Travelling Preachers.

3. Let no Local-Preacher be permitted to preach in any other Circuit than his own, without consent of the Superintendent of that Circuit.

4. Let no Local-Preacher hold Lovefeasts without the consent of the Superintendent; or in anywise interfere with his business. Let every one keep in his own place, and attend to the duties of his station.

5. No Minister who has been suspended, or expelled, shall, on any account, be employed as a Local-Preacher, without the authority of the Conference.

Of Trustees.

1. The Trustees, in conjunction with the Superintendent, shall choose their own Stewards. The Stewards shall keep proper accounts in books provided for that purpose; which books shall be open for the inspection of the Superintendent, and audited in his presence once every year; or oftener, if convenient.

2. No Trustee, however accused, or defective in conformity to the Rules of the Society, shall be removed from the Society, unless his crime or breach of rule be proved in the presence of the Trustees and Leaders; namely, the Leaders'-Meeting of the particular Society of which he is a Member, together with the Trustees of the Chapel with which that Society is connected, such Trustees being themselves Members of the Methodist Society.

Of the Quarterly-Meeting.

1. The Quarterly-Meeting consists of—

(1.) All the Ministers and Preachers on trial in the Circuit, and Supernumeraries, whose names appear in the printed Minutes of the Conference.

(2.) The Circuit-Stewards, all the Society-Stewards, and the Poor-Stewards.

(3.) All the Class-Leaders in the Circuit.

(4.) All the Local-Preachers of three years' continuous standing, after having been twelve months on trial; they being resident Members of Society in the Circuit.

(5.) All the Trustees of Chapels situate in places named on the Circuit-plan; such Trustees being resident Members of Society in the Circuit.

2. All those expenses for the support of the ministry for which the Circuit cannot provide, and therefore needs assistance from the Contingent Fund, must be sanctioned by the Quarterly-Meeting, before they can be brought to the District Committee.

3. No Circuit shall be divided until such division has been approved by the Quarterly-Meeting.

4. Before any Superintendent proposes a Preacher to the Conference, as proper to be admitted on trial, such Preacher must be approved at the March Quarterly-Meeting.

5. Should a majority of the June Quarterly-Meeting in any Circuit be of opinion that it is desirable to address to the Conference a Memorial on any Connexional subject, and agree to do so, that Meeting shall have authority to adopt and transmit such a Memorial; subject to regulations which are given in "Minutes" of 1852.

6. The Superintendents are directed to read, to the first Quarterly-Meeting after each Conference, any new Rule for the Societies at large. If the majority of the Quarterly-Meeting be of opinion that the enforcement of such rule in that Circuit will be injurious, it shall not be enforced during that year. But if the rule be confirmed by the second Conference, it shall be binding on the whole Connexion.

7. No case of Chapel building, purchase, or enlargement, shall be sanctioned by the Chapel-Committee, unless it has received the approbation of the Quarterly-Meeting.

8. In every Circuit, at the September Quarterly-Meeting, a Circuit-Treasurer for the Worn-out Ministers' and Widows' Fund shall be appointed.

8. It is resolved, That the Annual Meetings of the several District Committees shall be held between the 15th and the 22d of May, 1870, with the exception of the Lincoln, Hull, North Wales, South Wales, Isle of Man, and Zetland-Isles Districts.

STANDING ORDERS.

1. Home-Missionary Ministers.—(1.) At each Financial District Meeting a return shall be made, from each Circuit in which a Home-Missionary Minister is stationed, of the sum contributed by the Circuit to the Home-Mission Fund, and of the cost of such appointment to the Home-Mission Committee; according to the "Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers" adopted by the Conference of 1859.

(2.) The Conference directs that a special inquiry shall be made at the May District Meeting, whether the "Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers," adopted by the Conference of 1859, have been faithfully observed in the Circuits to which Home-Missionary Ministers are appointed; and that a Report in each case be made to the Conference.

2. Candidates for Ordination. — The Conference directs that Candidates for Ordination shall, at or before the May District Meeting, preach before three Ministers of the District, who shall report to the Meeting.

3. Preachers on Trial.—(1.) The Conference, having been informed that in several Circuits the Preachers on Trial have very rarely an opportunity of receiving the Lord's Supper, resolves that, in compliance with a former injunction on this subject, the Superintendents be required to make the necessary arrangements, in their Circuit-Plans, for securing to their junior Colleagues proper facilities for partaking of this holy sacrament. (2.) Whenever it shall be found to be practicable, Preachers on Trial shall preach during the District Meetings.

4. Candidates for Admission on Trial. — Those Preachers who are recommended for admission on Trial shall preach in the presence of at least three of the Ministers of the District Committee, (at or about the time of its Annual Meeting in May,) to be selected by the Chairman, exclusively of the Superintendents by whom the Candidates respectively are proposed; and a special report of the Sermons shall be made in the District Meeting, and immediately forwarded in writing to the London Committee of Examination.

5. Attendance of Ministers at Official Meetings.— Mistakes having arisen on this subject, the Conference deems it proper and necessary to declare, that all the Ministers and Preachers on Trial appointed to a Circuit have a constitutional right to take part as members in our Leaders'-Meetings, and in all other official meetings of the Circuits to which they are appointed.

6. Minor District Meetings.— In any case in which the Chairman of a District may deem it necessary to convene a Minor District Meeting, should either party refuse or decline to choose two Ministers to act as members thereof, the Chairman is empowered and directed to nominate them, so that the number required by rule may be made up.

7. Supply of Vacancies.—Instances having occurred in which Superintendents and other Ministers, needing Circuit-supplies on occasion of sickness and various casualties, have applied to the President of the Conference without first taking counsel with the Chairman of the District; the Conference directs the brethren to return to the old plan of first communicating with the Chairman in every such case.

8. Liverpool Minutes.—The Resolutions adopted by the Conference in the year 1820, and usually called the "Liverpool Minutes," besides being read and considered in the Annual Meeting of each District Committee, (as our standing Regulations require,) shall also be read at the Weekly Meeting of Ministers in each Circuit, next following the September Quarterly Meeting; and the Chairmen of Districts are directed to make inquiry concerning the due observance of this regulation.

9. District Minutes. — The Chairmen of Districts are required to procure three complete copies of the Minutes of the several Annual and other Meetings of the District Committees, transcribed according to the order of time in which such Meetings shall have been held, and duly signed by the Chairman and Secretary. One of these copies shall be inserted in the District Records; a second shall be reserved for the use of the Chairman and Financial Secretary at the Conference; and a third shall be delivered to the Assistant-Secretaries, on the Tuesday preceding the Conference, and by them to the President during the first week of each Conference, to be preserved, under his direction, as a document appertaining to the Connexion. The several copies of the last class shall be written on foolscap paper, that they may be annually bound together in one volume.

10. Annual Return of Members in Society.—The number of Members in Society, and of persons admitted on trial, as taken at the March Quarterly Visitation in each year, and reported in the Circuit-Schedules presented at the District Meetings, shall be the number returned on the Minutes of the following Conference.

11. Circuit Schedules.—In order to bring the state and progress of the work of God in every Circuit distinctly under the examination of the District Meetings, copies of the Printed Circuit Schedules, duly filled up, shall be annually produced, examined, and considered. The Chairmen of Districts are made responsible for the execution of this order. (See also Minutes for 1831, Q. xxv.; Vol. VII., p. 67.)

The Circuit Schedules containing the Returns of the Members in Society are to be forwarded, immediately after the May District-Meetings, to the Rev. Alexander M'Aulay, 5, The Grove, Stratford.

12. Schedules and Circulars on Connexional Business.—As it is obviously desirable that the Committees appointed by the Conference to manage the several departments of the business of the Connexion, in the intervals of its session, should be furnished with as much statistical information as possible on the matters of business severally confided to their care, the Conference authorises them, through their appointed Officers, to send, when they deem it expedient, suitable Circulars and Schedules to the Superintendents, or to the Chairmen of Districts, as the case may require; and directs the Superintendents and Chairmen duly to return such Schedules properly filled up.

13. Election of Laymen to serve on Conference Committees.—At the Annual Meeting of each District Committee in Great Britain, one Gentleman, being a member of the Society, shall be chosen by the Circuit-Stewards and District-Treasurers, to be a member of the Committee of the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, held preparatory to the Conference; and the Gentleman so chosen shall have the right to attend, and take part in the proceedings of, the Annual Meetings of the Missionary Committee, the Schools' Committee, the Chapel Committee, the Theological Institution Committee, and the Education Committee, held preparatory to the Conference.

14. Quarterly Fast-Days.—The days upon which the Quarterly Fast, appointed by Rule, is to be observed throughout the Connexion, for the following year, are, Fridays, October 1st, December 31st, April 1st, and July 1st.

15. Rule of 1797 concerning Admission of Members.—Mistakes having occasionally arisen respecting the meaning of the Rule of 1797, on the subject of the admission of persons who are on trial as members of our Society, the Conference deems it necessary to repeat the statement, That it never was intended that the names of all those who are on trial should be laid before a Leaders' Meeting for distinct and formal discussion; but solely, that if there be, in the opinion of a Leader, any reasonable objection to the character and conduct of any person who is on trial, such objection may be stated by him; and that, if the validity of the objection be established to the satisfaction of the Meeting, a Member's Ticket shall not be given to the person, so objected to, at the Quarterly Visitation.

16. Trial of Members.—When a charge is brought against any Member resident in a place where no

Leaders'-Meeting is statedly held, the case shall be referred for investigation to the Leaders'-Meeting of the principal Society in the Circuit-town. The Leader or Leaders, and the Society Stewards, of the Society of which the accused is a member, shall be associated with the Leaders'-Meeting for the purposes of the investigation.

17. Reading of the Pastoral Address in Society-Meetings.—The Superintendents are directed to appoint Special Society-Meetings to be held at the principal Chapels in their Circuits, for the purpose of having the Pastoral Address read, and made the subject of suitable remarks and exhortations.

18. Contingent Fund.—In future, all payments on account of Ordinary Deficiencies shall be made through the medium of the Financial Secretaries of Districts. The payments on account of Home Missionaries are to be made directly to and by the Treasurers of the Fund.

19. The Army.—The Chairmen of Districts are directed to inquire of the Superintendents of Circuits in which troops are marched to Divine service in our chapels, the average number of non-commissioned officers and men in attendance; distinguishing the number of members in Society. The returns given are to be recorded in the District Minutes. If there be no military attendance in the District, a note to that effect shall be inserted.

20. Conference Plan.—The Superintendents of those Circuits in which the Conference may from year to year assemble, shall, with the previous approbation of the President, (as already required by rule,) complete and print, not later than the 15th day of June in each year, a Plan of the order of preaching in the principal chapels during the Session of the Conference; and shall also, on or before the above date, inform every person whom they have appointed to preach in those chapels, of the time and place of such appointment. And in order that the Plan thus prepared may not be violated, to the disappointment of our friends, and to the great inconvenience of other parties concerned, no Minister who attends the Conference shall be at liberty to make an engagement to preach in any other Circuit, either on the Sabbath, or on any other day, during the period appointed for the meeting of the Conference, or of its various Preparatory Committees, at the time for which his name shall be inserted on the Conference Plan.

21. The Chairmen of Districts are enjoined to make particular inquiries at their Annual Meetings in reference to all the points of Discipline specified in the first Article of the Answer to Q. XXVIII. in the Minutes of 1825.

LIST OF GENERAL COLLECTIONS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR 1869-70.

The following are the usual and regular Collections which are to be made in all our Circuits during the ensuing year; viz.,—

1. The private Donations in the Classes, on behalf of the Worn-out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows' Auxiliary Fund, shall be entered in the Class-Books at the next September Visitation, and collected in the month of October, and forwarded at once to the District-Treasurer. (See Q. xxvii., A. 2, Minutes of 1851.)

2. The Private Subscriptions and Public Collections for the New-Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove Schools, &c., are to be made in the early part of the month of November, 1869; and the amount, without any deduction on account of Educational Allowances to Children, is to be immediately remitted to the Rev. Frederick Payne, Wrexham, one of the General Secretaries for the School-Fund. Each Superintendent must also send to Mr. Payne a particular account of the sums contributed to the Fund, and of all claims for Educational Allowances in his Circuit, specifying distinctly the names of the children for whose education the claims are made, the date, year, and place of their birth, and the exact number of years during which the allowance has been received.

3. The Annual Subscriptions, due January 1st, and occasional Donations, for the Wesleyan Theological Institution, are to be solicited in every Circuit in the first or second week of January, 1870; and forthwith remitted to the Rev. John Farrar, Headingley, Leeds. Post-Office Orders to be made payable in Leeds. The Collection referred to in these Minutes, p. 172, s. 9, is also to be remitted to the Rev. John Farrar.

4. The Annual Public Collections for the General Chapel Fund are to be made, and Subscriptions solicited, in the month of February, 1870; and the whole amount should be immediately remitted to the Rev. Messrs. Bedford and Edwards, General Secretaries, Oldham-Street Chapel, Manchester.

5. The Yearly Collection in all the Classes is to be made, as usual, at the March Visitation; and the money is to be paid at the District Meetings in May.

6. The Private Subscriptions and Public Collections for the Wesleyan Education Fund are to be made in the month of April, 1870; and the money is to be paid, at or before the May District-Meeting, to the Financial Secretaries, and by them remitted, with the Circuit Lists, to the Rev. John Vine, 13, Queen's-Square, Bloomsbury, London, W. C.

7. The Private Subscriptions for the Mission-Fund are to be received in all our Circuits, either weekly, monthly, quarterly, or annually, as is most convenient to the Subscribers. The annual Public Collections for that Fund are to be made in all our chapels, and other preaching-places, at the time of the Anniversaries of the several Auxiliary or Branch Societies; or, where no Public Meetings of that kind are held, in the month of May. The money so raised must be remitted, through the District-Treasurers, to the General Treasurers, whose address is, Wesleyan Centenary Hall, Bishopsgate-street-within, London, E. C.

8. The Private Subscriptions for the Auxiliary Worn-out Ministers' and Widows' Fund are to be solicited in the month of May, 1870; and a list of Subscriptions is to be sent to the Secretary, the Rev. Henry H. Chettle, Woodhouse-Grove, Apperley-Bridge, near Leeds, not later than the 30th of June. (See Q. XXVIII., Minutes of 1851.) The money is to be paid on or before the first day of the Conference to the Financial Secretary of the District, and by him to Messrs. Napier and Rattenbury, the Treasurers.

9. The Collections in aid of the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, for the support and spread of the Gospel in Great Britain and Ireland, are to be made in all our chapels and preaching-places, not later than the second Sunday in July, 1870; but, wherever practicable, before the May District Meeting, and in connection with a Public Meeting, as recommended by the Conference. Subscriptions and Donations are to be paid to the Treasurers as early as possible.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

CONFERENCE

TO

THE METHODIST SOCIETIES.

---

Beloved Brethren,

We greet you in the name of the Lord Jesus. "Grace unto you and peace be multiplied."

In every session of Conference, as well as during the meetings of preliminary Committees, we have had tokens of the presence and favour of God. Several of the public religious services have been attended with remarkable converting power.

It needs but recent memory to recall a time in which every step was clogged with difficulty, and every fund burdened with debt. It is not so now. In many departments of our work the reviews of the year have revealed to us considerable and gratifying progress. Facilities for beneficial action increase, and we gladly see new paths opening before us for future extension and usefulness.

The number of members in Great Britain is three hundred and forty-five thousand five hundred and twenty-six; being an increase of three thousand one hundred and forty-six. There are also upon trial twenty thousand five hundred and ninety-six. In the foreign field, three thousand three hundred and twenty-eight additional members are reported.

For every soul added to the Church we glorify God.

But these statistical results will neither sufficiently call forth gratitude, nor be estimated at their fair value, unless many circumstances be weighed.

Causes of limitation, to some extent, in these days, arise not from the triumph of evil, but from the competition of good. Far be it from us to deplore that our pulpits have no monopoly of Gospel truth; nor our churches of earnest life. Success, so far as it is lessened in one denomination, because more equally shared by all Evangelical churches, implies no Christian loss. To that extent the fact may be acknowledged without being deplored.

Nor may we forget that the doctrinal testimony of Methodism itself is not now left to us alone. Men are not—as once they were—compelled to come to us if they would hear of all-redeeming love and full salvation.

That benediction of ancient Israel, "Thou shalt lend and not borrow," continues to be ours. We recruit from no church, but our sons serve in many. Financial offers, with which we cannot compete, annually draft away numbers, saved by our means and trained in our work, to be the evangelists, Scripture-readers, and City Missionaries of other communities.

Further, the present prevalence of undenominational effort considerably influences our returns. A few years ago, concern for the ever-darkening moral condition of the masses led to the opening of many theatres and public halls for religious worship. It was at the time thought prudent that these services should not be identified with any particular church. This aggressive movement—retaining that characteristic—has wonderfully spread and developed. There it stands—a large religious fact—outside all churches. Not a few of its most successful agents were born of God within our borders. They are numbered with us no more. Impulsive natures, which long to do good, but shrink from tests of qualification, which dislike subjection to rule, and love always to do things their own way, continue naturally to be attracted by this free revivalism. Many, to their loss and ours, thus leave us. We ill spare their fervour, and they would be much advantaged by our experience. We rejoice that by their means outcasts are won; but would gladly see them, when won, better fed and better fenced.

In secular society doubt is prevalent. Our holy religion has of late been frequently assailed. They who have life through the Word can be calm and firm; but weak people, moved by the daring repetition, have been brought to imagine there must be some foundation for all these assaults: like the islanders who concluded Paul a villain because a viper bit him. Reaction, helpful to the truth, will come. As, one after another, Christianity shakes venomous antagonistic theories off, and the fire of time consumes them, while she lives on, the world, convinced at last by her immortal life, shall confess her Divinity.

Against Romanist and Rationalist alike we, with no faltering hand or misgiving thought, continue to uplift the Divine Word. We know no other Rule of Faith. Godly writings treasured for us from elder times we hold as a valuable heritage; but erring men—even though they be called Fathers—must not be listened to when they would have us either outrun or contradict infallible Apostles. Still less may we follow the leadership of modern dreamers who, mistaking their own fancies for indisputable intuitions, would have us accept them in the place of Divine directions. What would that be but to turn our back upon God's own fire-pillar to flounder in darkness through a marsh, after the dance of a meteor?

One of "the depths of Satan," in this age, is the clever adaptation and plentiful use of evangelical words by vendors of theological novelty. The frequent recurrence of accustomed phrases lays the suspicion of simple ones to sleep. Led by the ears, they are deceived. This picking, with cunning tact, of words here and there to suit a purpose, is "handling the Word of God deceitfully." It has been felicitously said: "Men who do so deal with their Bibles as he would with his sundial, who, professing to regulate his watch by it, should go to it at midnight to learn the time, and give, as on its authority, for the hour, the figure touched by the shadow which his own candle, not the sun, had projected."

In these days, theorists, who, like certain tradesmen, have more credit than capital, abound. Trust them not.

Their conceptions—in their own esteem—are too big to be limited by definitions. Orthodoxy frets them. They love a free pen. They acknowledge no rule,—will be bound by no principle. What such writers gain in latitude they lose in good sense. Be ye lovers of "the doctrine" which is "according to godliness;" not admirers of these loose speculations. Let the authors of them, unheeded by you, continue to proclaim aloud their own breadth of thought. Their chief expansion is that of vanity. Their vague teaching—because it is such—may be broad as the boundless air: assuredly it is as thin. Hooker wisely observes: "Many praise their own fancies as the truth, who never dropped a plummet in the depth whence truth springeth."

There are, in various churches, increasing numbers of educated persons, injured by practical forgetfulness of Christ's needful caution, "Beware of the leaven of the Sadducees." Presumptuous experiments in the literature of unbelief have grievously damaged many souls. The old tempter continues to seduce with offers of knowledge, ever turning out to be but knowledge of evil, though labelled, as at the first, "Desirable to make one wise." Keeping abreast—as it is called—of the thought of the age is dearly purchased at the price of simplicity and faith. He who seeks heaven by following the changing currents of human opinion is as little likely to find his wished-for goal, as a pilgrim would be who should journey to Jerusalem on the principle of walking which way the wind blew.

We beseech you, be more assiduously than ever conversant with the Bible. Study not merely books about the Bible, but the Bible itself. There is sad reason to believe that, in this age of many books, the Spirit is often grieved by the too common neglect of His own "sure Word." No growth of general information can strengthen holy principle equally with a fresh, first-hand, devout, personal searching of the Sacred Volume. "Search the Scriptures," said Jesus, for "they are they which testify of Me." Search them, with gratitude for a subject so precious, and with reverence for an authority so binding. "The Word of the Lord is quick." All God's truth lives. Its blessed pages taught truth to Reformers. Its mighty encouragements gave strength to martyrs. The chosen instruments of all wide, abiding, well-resulting religious awakenings, have been men whose armory and weapons were furnished forth from the arsenal of the Word; men profoundly acquainted with the letter, and fully possessed by the spirit, of Inspired Truth. We—as our fathers were—must be "delivered" into "that form of doctrine;" must be fashioned and moulded by it, if we would do as our fathers did.

Holy men, of many names, as they remember the mighty works done in our fathers' days, and in the "old time before them," deplore the smallness of the measure of blessing now vouchsafed. We trust a brighter hour is near. If you entered a noble minster as the shadows of eventide were falling, you would perceive all preparations for illumination to be ready. The tubes are laid, the gas is on, the lamps are lit—they are in—but that is just all that you can say of them. They burn low. They only glimmer like glow-worms. The glory of the vaulted roof, and the symmetry of the long-drawn aisles, are invisible in the dimness. For want of light the readers err and stammer over the Holy Books. What is wanted? New channels for the light-giving power? No; they are as they should be. At a touch fresh force will breathe through them, and as the gush comes, every blue bead of twinkling light will brighten into a star, each corner of the temple be filled with glory, every hallowed word become distinct, and the service go on with gladness. The present need of our Connexion, as the need there, is not of new means, but of stronger heavenly communications through what we have. Because, however, in language of confession we thus speak, let no fearful hearts imagine that on our temple-walls the fatal Ichabod is written. There never shines one day through all the year in which conversions do not take place among us. We dare echo still our Founder's dying words: "The best of all is, God is with us." Yet we want Him more; we long exceedingly that brighter beams of His Shechinah should fill our sanctuaries with a flood of light, and mightier effluxes of His Spirit strengthen all our ministries with inspiration of power.

We would, however, ourselves remember, and also remind you, that Divine influence is not offered as a makeweight for apathy, nor miracle promised to render human neglect a matter of indifference. Let ancient facts instruct us. It was, indubitably, by supernatural might that Samson's puny weapon smote with such deadly force the host of his enemies; yet it is quite as true that no Philistine fell to the heap unaimed at, or whom Samson himself struck not down. Only at Elijah's prayer clouds gathered and showers fell; yet of the following harvest not a wheat-ear waved in Israel's fields, nor did a melon grow, which some Hebrew hand had not planted. Just thus in our husbandry too; while God gives sun and rain, we must give culture. That Paul planted and Apollos watered is as true, and as instructive, as that God gave the increase.

Be thankful for a system—the precious outgrowth of long experience—in which, duly placed among brethren, you may stand, at once helped and helping, in the fellowship of service. That you may reap all advantages of combination, we counsel you, beware of self-will. Be not eager to lead, stubborn on minor points, or determined to shape everything in your own mould. Respect rule; love peace; and make it a principle to act with others as far as you may.

Let it, however, be remembered that church-regulations cannot cover the whole field of duty. No society can answer for its members at the final bar. Every man has responsibilities which he cannot transfer to others. Providence puts each of you in front of the foe; what you will do there is, and must be, mainly left to your own heartiness and zeal. Be vigilant. Strike when you can. Do not expect every cut and shot to be prescribed for you in regimental orders. Individuality must be maintained and cultured: not, indeed, by the indulgence of crotchets and the love of oddities, but in originalities of beneficence, manfulness of testimony, and personal effort to save souls. Fill life with work. Be true to the pattern of Him whose first recorded word is, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"—and whose last was, "It is finished."

Could all Christian men be stirred up to put forth their full power of beneficent effort upon the mass of human ignorance and misery which everywhere surrounds them; to act as if they really believed that under those haggard and neglected forms Jesus Himself waited to receive the tribute of their love; to act with self-denying industry, and large-hearted, cheerful charity, perennial in its outflow as God's gifts to them are in their incoming, what wonders one short twelvemonth of a faithful Church would see!

Nay, leaving out thought of others, were the Methodists of England, at length, to realize the flattering description often given of us, but never to this day true, that "we are all at it, and always at it," we believe, with God's blessing, the number in our Societies might be doubled in five years. The times are serious. Protestantism is flouted by many of its sworn defenders: men who scorn the martyrs, and hate the Reformation, are this day unjustly living upon English tithes. Popery lifts its head more proudly than this realm for centuries before hath seen. Pauperism terribly increases. Vice festers in our large cities. Indifference to religion grows among the masses. Births outrun conversions. Population multiplies faster than churches. More unconverted people breathe the air of England now than did upon the day John Wesley first set forth. We must awake. It becomes us to do as peoples do when they fight for altar and for home. They melt their bells for cannon, and unlead their roofs for shot. The nation rises against the foe en masse. So should we rush to the war for Christ. We abdicate the high place our fathers won, unless we march from conquering still to conquer. He has no right conception of Methodism who merely says that it has a Home-Mission: it is a Home-Mission. Like the Nile, Methodism gives not the blessing the world has a right to expect from it unless it overflows.

While anxious for the salvation of all, we are specially concerned about the hundreds of thousands of children in our schools.

Teachers, any chasm between your institution and the Church will be fatal as a broken arch in a bridge: through it, your young charge will drop into the flood. If at a suitable age the children join not the Church, that fact is sad evidence that they have joined the world.

Not a few schemes have been devised to retain children in your classes until riper years: everything short of getting them converted will either secularize you, or fail of securing them. Let this year's motto be: "The children for Christ."

The duty of personal decision for the Lord has ever been proclaimed, unto all youth under their instruction, by the elder churches of Christendom. On that point catechists everywhere have been required to question them; and, so soon as it should be found that they had attained discretion to understand the Articles of the Creed, the terms of the Evangelical Covenant, and the Commandments of God, they have been led up openly to affirm, with their own mouth, their individual faith in, and submission to, the same.

Being in charge of so many catechumens, it behoves you, after our own manner, to seek the same issue which was aimed at by that ancient discipline. There must be more intercession for the salvation of children, and more effort. This subject should be made one of careful consideration in each school. After the offering of continuous, plentiful, believing prayer, let well-prepared addresses, tenderly setting forth the claims of Jesus, and earnestly urging present acceptance of Him, be delivered; afterwards, let every teacher deal with his own class, one by one, upon the same themes. As to instruction, let no child be passed over: nor, of those whose years and knowledge mark them out as suitable for such appeals, let any escape the requirement of immediate submission to Christ. Throw the matter upon conscience. Make them understand that the rights of their Saviour, thus brought up in view, can no longer be passed by, but must be either accepted or rejected.

We see no reason why, if prayer, appeal, and private converse be diligently plied, pastors may not, each returning year, find themselves surrounded by young men and maidens dedicating themselves with loving earnestness unto the Lord.

Look upon the drops of early dew, refreshing every spire of grass, clinging to every spray of forest trees, or lying like pearls in the cup of every opening flower, and then with full heart ask, "O Lord, when, according to Thy word, shall Thy Church from the womb of the morning have the dew of her youth? When shall she have an offspring pure, beautiful, and countless, as those glittering gems?"

If tenderly solicitous for others, what words can express our concern for the salvation of the children of our families? Sons and daughters of godly Methodists, ye are unspeakably dear to our hearts. We yearn after you. We want you in our ranks; and, above all, we want you for Christ. Strangely, of late, some have resented this our entreaty and desire; have urged this our calling to them, as if they were outside, to be a mistake. On the ground of baptism they claim to be possessed already of membership in the Catholic Church. Were that idea burdened with fewer questions than it is, could it be that any supposable union with the Church Catholic releases from obligation to fulfil the actual claims of fellowship with the particular church within whose living circle Providence has cast our lot? Nay, rather, surely, that pledging to holy life, which is implied in infant baptism, is a bond to the very earliest undertaking of these practical duties; not a commutation for them, much less a release from them. Baptism did indeed give a sealed claim upon the Church that you, by it, should be instructed, cared for, and, in due time, fully received; it must, therefore, have equally bound you to come into God's house, the Church; to be teachable there, and obedient to its godly order. Had a patriot-father entered your name in the list of a volunteer corps, what would it serve either you or the nation if, thereafter, you would neither wear the uniform, answer the roll-call, nor practise the drill? Sacramental designation of you for God, given by your parents' religious care, though, doubtless, it shall endure for ever as a bond, will yet as certainly lapse as a blessing, unless it be suitably followed by your own personal acts.

You object to be spoken with, or "preached to," as if you were in peril; "you are the seed of the righteous; you have never gone astray in vice; you are the children of the Church." But were not all these things true of that young man to whom Jesus said, "Yet lackest thou one thing?" Were they not true of Saul of Tarsus, of Martin Luther, of the two Wesleys? Did the truth of them preclude in those cases the need of real, marked, clear conversion? Are you more moral than they? more sincere than they? more earnest than they? We claim you, in the name of the Lord. Do not mistake; we do not want you merely that your names may swell the number of our partisans; but that you may become vital members of the living Church, brothers in the confederacy of pardoned, happy, holy souls.

We know, indeed, and deplore, that there are many who, either under the stress of alarming dispensations of Providence, or moved by some flash of the Spirit's convincing light, or stirred by a preacher's appeal, or lured by the wooing of a friend, have placed their feet within the Church's threshold, and satisfied themselves with membership without conversion. Devoid of vice, they scandalize no one: equally devoid of life, they bless no one. With a name written among the living, alas, they are dead! Religiousness in them mounts no higher than orderliness of conduct, and regularity in outward exercises. They know not anything—how can they?—of the deep, ever-during spiritual joy of saints. They are, in fact, no more Christians, for that they are among Christians, than a thistle would be a fig because some one had tied it among figs upon the tree.

All such, we beseech, stay not as ye are. Unsaved amid the saved, can ye be happy? It were easier to make the poles of the earth meet, than to make peace and an unwashed conscience dwell together. Ye who might be living sons of Zion, will ye content yourselves with remaining mere units in church-lists? "Marvel not" that we say earnestly unto you,—as our Master did to Nicodemus,—"Ye must be born again."

Of all influences threatening to Christian life, that of "the world" is at once the most common and the most perilous. Reason was never stronger than now loudly to declare, "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." By "the world" is not meant, either men, or nature, or affairs; but any, or all of them, if loved for themselves alone. The essence of this sin is forgetfulness of God. Of it comes science without faith, politics without principle, business without conscience, literature without holiness, pleasure without purity; in short, man without God. The eye of worldliness is sense; its horizon, time; its law, fashion; its god, success. The worldling cannot see afar off: his wisdom, like the ostrich's wings, may help its possessor to outrun others on earth, but can never lift him nearer heaven.

There have been skilful poisoners who could kill with the fragrance of flowers. With the world's pleasantries Satan doth thus each day mortally infect poor souls. Intercourse with the world, even when necessary and innocent, had better be wary; for, like Judas, it oft betrays whom it kisses. He alone is safe, who, having exaltation or wealth, sees God in it, serves God with it, and could be happy in God without it; in whose esteem earthly joy is but as a taper in the sunshine, which, if blown out, would be but little missed.

Seek to abide in the world as a king's ambassador does in a foreign land; true to his own allegiance, representing there his sovereign's will, upholding his honour, maintaining his interest, and ready any day to go home at his word. He should be our Ocean who is our Fountain. "All for God," is the true believer's motto. To such an one everything becomes spiritual. His is an altar-life: words, and works, and thoughts exhale away to heaven in sacrifice.

Trying times best develop men. There are epochs in which Providence thunders, and the atmosphere seems cleared for awhile. In the fresh, breezy air, the Church lifts her head, and walks quicker. Of late the winds have been holden. No storms have ruffled. Zion has been at ease, but not therefore in safety. The world's persecution never did the Church so much injury as her patronage has done.

Let us be vigilant, for worldliness creeps over souls unawares, as the death-sleep does on travellers among Alpine snows. Are none already benumbed? Would not old treatises against this evil—well esteemed in the fiery days of Methodist youth—sound oddly in some ears now, and be felt to be more out of joint with current ideas than any other class of theological writings whatever?

Some overtures ought to awake caution. Unregenerate men in the Church are like oil with water—one vessel may hold them, but they are not one for all that. Satan would gladly take his ban off the world's help if he could but cheat the Church into purchasing it at the world's price. The world can praise religion if only its sanctuaries be fashionable, its worship artistic, and its claims moderate. But doctrines that are mysterious, warnings that make the hearers quail, practices that call for self-denial, contemplations that bring men to face eternity, and all movements born of earnest spiritual life, are its disgust.

O ye that war, be not entangled; put off the fetters, put on the armour. Be spiritual. How else can you be ready to take part in what Mr. Wesley declared to be our vocation; viz., "to spread Scriptural holiness through the land?" Dr. Clarke thought the great religious movement, in the bosom of which he found himself, more secure of permanence than any which had preceded it, because, with new clearness, it opened before the faith of believing men God's Gospel of purity. The reason is good if we be faithful. But the sanctifying truth committed to us, if we merely keep it packed away in a definition, will be powerless as a sheathed sword. It must be made to tell upon life. Possibility of perfection in love, if a doctrine to be believed, must plainly be a duty to be urged, and an experience to be enjoyed. Though we put "perfect love" into our creeds as carefully as hydrographers do the North-west Passage into their charts, it will be with as little practical result so long as we go not that way.

Among teachers in the Church who have left their mark on the ages, John Wesley stands pre-eminent as the great divine of religious experience. His glorious course began in himself with the joys of personal salvation. His work was not sharpening the corners of creeds, but declaring the life of God. His great labour —the success he sought—lay not in the refutation of error, but in the salvation of men. You look along his track, not to find heresies crushed by his logic, so much as souls quickened by his word.

While Methodism inherited all the sound words of ancient faith, proclaimed, with no bated breath, the doctrines of the Reformation, practically asserted all the rights of free speech, work, and worship, which non-conforming Puritans had won, it was itself essentially a revival, filling the land with the stir of new-born life. Its specialities were evangelism, loving fellowship, and plentiful experimental witnessing. Its preachers declared to all men, through faith alone, in Christ alone, salvation, free, present, and full. Its converts clustered into societies and testified, "We, by the Spirit, do in our souls realize these things; we do assuredly know and feel them to be given unto us of God." The aged took the young by the hand, the wise taught the simple, the experienced guided the novice, the strong helped the weak, each watched over the other in love, and all were trained for active service in the cause of Christ. This sacred sociality is the spirit and life of our system. Colleagueship in the ministry and fellowship in the class are its result. Under God, they are our strength, but the strength of them is love. Let love decline, and such a system must at once be felt to be a bondage and a fret.

Love will no more withhold a good than it would inflict an evil. Why should treasures of precious knowledge lie locked up in the heart of a dumb Church, like learning in a sealed book? Believers are called to be confessors. In primitive times they said, "We cannot but speak the things which we have seen." It should be so now. Seek that ye may thus excel to the edifying of the Church; pray, "O Lord, open Thou my lips; and my mouth shall show forth Thy praise."

The scene of quickening in Ezekiel's vision is all the more gladsome for the desolation which precedes it. A valley filled with human wreck lay stretched beneath the seer's eye. What symbol, with equal impressiveness, could have set forth Israel's utter hopelessness? There—crushed in the fight, left unburied after the battle—lay the broken skeletons of the nation's last defenders. In sight of those unhonoured and ghastly heaps, we ask, "Is there help for God's land yet?" Hark! with daring faith the prophet speaks to the bones: there is a rustling amid the piles of death; bone leaps to bone; sinews bind, flesh clothes, and skin covers them. Again he, fearless, at God's bidding, calls to the winds, and at his word the quickening breath comes; in re-constructed symmetry, up starts a mighty host, ready harnessed for the wars of the Lord.

To-day, through all Christendom, the boasts of the foe are loud. In many a place weeping, weary watchers see but broad heaps of dead, dry, bleaching bones where living armies ought to stand. Let us to our knees. Abraham prayed, and Sodom's fires lingered till his intercession was done. Jacob wrestled, and—though, to humble him, his flesh, like Paul's, must thereafter bear a thorn—as a prince he prevailed. Moses cried unto God, and at his cry—a path, broad enough for the march of a nation, opened before him through the sea. Solomon laid aside his crown, and, from the midst of Israel's gathered thousands, entreated God; the words were yet on his lips when "the glory of the Lord filled the house." Elijah, alone before an apostate king, dauntless amid the fretted passions and wild fanaticism of the priests of Baal, cast himself upon the fidelity of God: the fire fell. Jehoshaphat prayed, and in the valley of Berachah his enemies smote each other. Hezekiah prayed, and that night "God arose to judgment.....The earth feared, and was still." At His rebuke the mighty men of the Assyrian host slept their sleep.

Prayer will work marvels yet. Let us lay to heart the littleness of our increase; let us crowd our meetings for prayer; let us confess the whole fault to be ours; let us mourn before the Lord; let us plead with such desire as swelled the great heart of John Knox when he cried, "O! give me Scotland, or I die!" Unto us, as unto our fathers, God will come. So shall we no longer be unto Him as a snow-clad vineyard, without fruit on the branches, or song in the grove. He shall say, "Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon My garden, that the spices thereof may flow out." At that word the Spirit's influence, as the breath of spring, shall dissolve the frost: His vital ray shall penetrate the soil, quicken every tree, and touch into life, beauty, and fragrance, every flower. Then the Lord Himself will walk again with joy in His paradise, and beneath His eye the lily shall vie in whiteness with the light, the rose reflect the ruddy beams of the morning, the vine put forth her shoots, and the boughs be purpled over with clustering grapes.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

IRISH CONFERENCE, 1869,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Assembled in our Annual Conference, we gratefully acknowledge the Divine goodness by which we are permitted to meet and to offer ourselves and our services afresh to God and to His Church according to His will.

The fact of so many brethren engaged in the great work of the Christian ministry being brought together once a year we regard as of great importance, conducing as it does to the increase of brotherly love and the renewal of purposes of greater usefulness, and affording opportunity for provoking each other anew to love and to good works.

Your fraternal Address was received with feelings of true respect and affection. Fully reciprocating the sympathy with which it is fraught, we hail with the most lively satisfaction the renewed expressions of its continuance; and although we deprecate the spirit of an ignoble dependence, we regard much of our work as a part of the great Missionary work, the responsibilities of which devolve mutually upon both you and us.

We are thankful that in these times of extraordinary political excitement and religious strife, when many in your country "depart from the faith," and turn aside to "fables," we are enabled with you to "contend earnestly for the faith once delivered to the saints;" and that while questions of the gravest importance have agitated the public mind, we and our beloved people have been enabled to maintain "the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."

Our most anxious attention has been given to the subject of National Education. Powerful political influences are in operation, aiming at the conversion of the present system into a purely denominational one; and for certain reasons, (applicable to Ireland,) we feel called upon to give uncompromising opposition to such a system as is now sought for by the Roman hierarchy.

With an intelligent regard for the claims of our country, and in view of our own responsibilities, we heartily adopt the sentiments so well expressed in the able letters of the Rev. William Arthur, published in January last in the "Daily News."

We beg to assure you that our joy is great in your joy. As sharers in your glory, we rejoice in the manifest signs of your continued prosperity. The noble efforts put forth to meet the need of your ever-growing population by the erection of so many chapels, the newly-augmented strength and success of the Sunday-school agency as an auxiliary to the church, and the increase of your members, are to us very cheering.

It is ours still to be bereft of our children in the Gospel by emigration. By this cause alone we have lost four hundred members during the year. Yet, thank God, we are enabled to encourage each other with some increase.

We desire to express our sympathy with you in the losses which you have sustained by the removal of brethren beloved from the scene of their earthly toils. We, too, have had our bereavements. Two of our number, the Rev. William Reilly and the Rev. Henry Price, "princes and great men," have fallen in our Israel. While some of our companions in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ are thus called to rest, others are raised up to enter into their labours. Six young men have been received on trial, five of whom are appointed to Circuits.

But what are these among so many? Impressed with the conviction that we live in times most eventful and critical, observing a disposition in high places to afford patronage and countenance to that form of superstition which is the bane of this country, and stirred by the changes which are taking place in other churches, it is a great grief to us that still we are unable to enter into the openings presented to us by the Providence of God and the zeal of our people. Fathers and brethren, "pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you."

The kind wishes which you express for our College, and the great sacrifice you have made in bestowing upon us its first President, assure us that you will be glad to learn that its auspicious opening has been followed by a very encouraging amount of prosperity. Its successful beginning is the more gratifying to us as it has not interfered with the continued prosperity of the older Institution, the Wesleyan Connexional School in Dublin.

Your Missionary Deputation was well received, and afforded us very efficient aid in advocating the claims of the great cause in which we feel an unfailing interest. We are glad to have had an increase to the regular income of several hundred pounds, with bequests amounting to about eight hundred pounds.

We send to you as our Representatives, the Rev. James Tobias,—who is also nominated for the delegation,—the Rev. Edward Best, and the Rev. James Donnelly. We also send the Rev. Dr. Scott, on behalf of the College Endowment Fund.

This, the hundredth Conference in Ireland, has been one of uninterrupted harmony and spiritual profit. We have felt much of the presence of God, leading us to deep searchings of heart and earnest desires for a year of Pentecostal power. These benefits accruing from our meeting together have been owing in no small measure to the spirit and ability of our highly-esteemed President, the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall. His judicious counsels and faithful ministrations of the Word of Life have edified and delighted us all. His excellent companions, the Rev. the Ex-President, John Bedford, the Rev. Thomas Vasey, and the Rev. George T. Perks, have done us much good; their genial intercourse with us in Conference, and their public services have made impressions upon our hearts and minds not to be forgotten. We feel indebted to those honoured ministers of Christ, and earnestly pray that by the favour of Him who holds the seven stars in His right hand they may be long spared for your advantage and that of the Church at large.

And now, fathers and brethren, we return to our work, determined to "make full proof of our ministry" by seeking to save souls from death, and "by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God."

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE, 1869,

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE OF 1869.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

We have gladly received your Annual Address, and have given cordial greeting to the brethren whom you have deputed to be your Representatives at our Conference.

With deep sympathy, and in the spirit of Christian brotherhood, we rejoice in your successes, and watch with you in the presence of your difficulties and discouragements. We are thankful that you are enabled to report an increase in the number of your members, and we can well understand how cheering this must be, after so many trials of your faith and patience. But we share with you the conviction that much of the seed sown by you springs up elsewhere, and that through your instrumentality many trees of the Lord's right-hand planting afford their shade and yield their fruit in other lands. We would also unite with you in the confident assurance that such increase may yet be the normal condition of Irish Methodism. Times of refreshing await you. Ireland in years long past gave prompt response to the Gospel call, and we cannot doubt that the ready intelligence and generous devotion of your nation will even yet be consecrated to the reasonable service of Christ.

The course of recent events has not destroyed our confidence. We have watched the progress of Imperial legislation with mingled hopes and fears. But in the midst of all we have had a common prayer and a united trust in God. For yourselves, the future will bring new relationships, new opportunities, and new responsibilities. Our earnest supplication in your behalf is this,—that, strengthened for your all-important work, and guided by the wisdom from above, you may be enabled faithfully to uphold, and widely to extend, the kingdom of Christ.

We cherish with you the memory of those able and efficient ministers of the Lord Jesus who in the course of the year have passed from amongst you. Added to the "cloud of witnesses," they await us in the rest of faithful toilers.

We are thankful to hear of the prosperity of your educational establishments in Dublin and at Belfast; and especially to learn that the promptitude with which we granted your large request for the appointment of the Rev. William Arthur, M.A., as Principal of the latter Institution, has been justified by the results. We earnestly desire that corresponding benefits may accrue to our common cause during the remainder of his term of residence.

The question of primary education amongst you has also engaged our serious attention. We can fully recognise the essential difference between the Irish and British systems sanctioned by the Legislature. The relationships which exist between the educating bodies in the respective countries and the common Government do not only forbid comparison: they compel a contrast. For this reason we have consistently opposed denominational education in Ireland as unjust, and at the same time have claimed it in Great Britain as a right. If any attempts to confound or assimilate the two systems should necessitate a re-consideration of the subject, we shall look for Heavenly guidance, and await the future with unfaltering confidence in God.

Amongst ourselves the educational progress of the year has been very encouraging. We have reported an increase of 8,990 in the number of our day-scholars, nd 19,781 Sunday-scholars. These make a total increase for the last two years of more than 20,000 day-scholars and 45,000 Sunday-scholars. But our work in this department leaves much to be desired, and we are still resolved to care for our people. Knowing that there can be no safe development of human nature without moral culture, and no true morality apart from the influences of religion, we shall maintain our first principles, and continue to accomplish our purpose by such means as may be within our reach.

In other departments our financial and material progress has been cheering. The demands for Home-Missionary work are increasingly imperative. Fields are ready, and labourers are waiting. Only a large addition to the Home-Mission Fund can prevent the serious hindrance of evangelistic efforts.

The fruit of our toil during the year is partly shown by the increase of 3,146 members, with 20,596 on trial. This encourages, but does not satisfy, us. We long for the richer manifestation of soul-converting power. Brethren, pray for us.

In the future, as in the past, we would be helpers of your faith, that we may be sharers of your joy. Peculiar difficulties lie in your way, and in some respects many dangers beset your path. "Unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on Him, but also to suffer for His sake." We have observed with sorrow, but without surprise, how in various places the Papal power, true to its character of inveterate hostility to evangelical truth, would create a reign of terror in your midst. We have ever recognised the rights of our fellow-citizens, and we desire everywhere and for all full liberty of conscience in the worship of God. But to this gigantic system of error and wrong, the success of which would destroy our national independence, and which, by the interposition of men, would bar the sinner from his Saviour and shut out man from God, we shall continue, with you, to present an unbroken front and an uncompromising opposition. It may be that upon you will devolve much of the burden of this contest. You will not on that account be dismayed. The power of the enemy is one, though its forms of manifestation are many. In the struggle which lies before us, we have no new foes to conquer. The victories of the past assure the triumph of the future. "The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds." The conscience of man will respond to the Word of Truth, and the barriers of prejudice give way to the touch of Omnipotence. We would unite with you in renewed consecration to the work of the ministry. Knowing whom we have believed, we may be assured that in proportion as we devote ourselves to our labour in the spirit of our forefathers, we may expect the prospering blessing of our fathers' God.

Reverend Fathers and Brethren,

We thankfully acknowledge the receipt of your parental and instructive Address.

We thank you most heartily for your compliance with our request, in allowing the Rev. William Morley Punshon, M.A., to reside and labour among us for a term of years. If we entertained high expectations of the acceptableness and efficiency of his labours, on his appointment as our President, those expectations have been more than realized by his powerful ministrations and addresses, his wise and affectionate counsels, his generous and active efforts in behalf of our institutions, his extensive travels and numerous public services,—edifying and impressing multitudes by his eloquent and fervent discourses, aiding most effectively to advance the various interests of our church, and commanding the highest respect, and largely the attention and admiration of all classes and Protestant denominations of our country. We need scarcely add, that after much experience of the great value and usefulness of Mr. Punshon's labours during the past year, we have cordially and unanimously re-elected him as our President for the present year. In accordance with the wish of the Conference, as expressed last year, the President has appointed as Co-Delegate the Rev. George Douglas, whose high character, eminent talents, and amiable spirit give ample assurance of the efficiency with which he will discharge the important duties imposed upon him.

We rejoice to learn the increased prosperity of the vast and still enlarging work under your care, both at home and abroad. Our earnest prayer is, that the blessings of Divine grace and power will crown your labours with yet greater success.

We are thankful to be able to say that, notwithstanding much commercial depression, every institution and fund of our church is in advance of the preceding year. The numerical increase of our members is upwards of two thousand; and no less than forty-six young men have been recommended and accepted as candidates for our ministry.

The Government having withdrawn the public aid heretofore granted to the denominational Colleges of this country, we have decided upon appealing to the liberality of our people; and, uniting our personal contributions with theirs to secure the sum of one hundred thousand dollars for the University of Victoria College, more than half that sum has been subscribed already; and we hope, by the Divine blessing, to complete, in the course of the present Conference year, the work so auspiciously commenced, of placing our University College in a position of independent and entire efficiency. It is a matter of thankfulness and encouragement that the attendance of students and pupils at our University and Female College is in advance of any previous year, while we bear testimony to the truly Christian and Wesleyan spirit and efficient manner in which these noble institutions have been conducted.

Perfect peace and unity pervade the entire ministry and membership of our church; on no former occasion have our Conferential deliberations been characterized by more courtesy and brotherly kindness than during our present session; and we go forth with one mind, and with renewed purpose of devotion and consecration of heart, to our appointed fields of labour, relying alone upon Him who perfects His strength in human weakness, and imploring a continuous baptism upon ourselves and congregations.

As you have granted us the privilege of electing our President for the present year, we shall be thankful if you will allow to us the privilege of electing our President for the next year.

Rev. Fathers and Brethren, our earnest prayer is, that by the riches of Divine grace you may become manifold more than you are, and continue with increased success to diffuse the blessings of Christianity and civilization over the continents and islands of the globe.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869

ADDRESS OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CONFERENCE IN CANADA, 1869.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Your fraternal Address has been received by us with much satisfaction. Be assured that the interest which we feel in the Wesleyan-Methodist Church in Canada is not only continued but increasing.

Your references to the President unanimously chosen by you have not taken us by surprise. From our own knowledge of him we were quite prepared to hear of your high admiration of Mr. Punshon's remarkable gifts, and your testimony to his great pulpit and administrative usefulness. We are gratified to find that your President acted in accordance with the wishes of your last year's Conference in appointing the Rev. George Douglas as Co-Delegate,—a brother of whose estimable character, spirit, and talents, we have heard.

We greatly rejoice in the continued prosperity of your churches. The goodly number of candidates for the ministry which you report we consider a healthful and hopeful sign. The numerical increase in your church-members is proportionably larger than that which we ourselves report; and we confidently expect in coming years tidings of a still greater development in your institutions and number of members. From all we can learn, Methodism promises to obtain an extensive hold upon the population of Canada, and to exert a powerful influence for good upon the future of the new Dominion. We fervently hope and pray that it may be so.

Now that Government aid has been withdrawn from the denominational Colleges of your country, we think you have acted wisely and well in appealing to the liberality of your own people to supply for the University of Victoria College the necessary funds. We heartily congratulate you upon the success which has thus far followed your efforts in this matter; and should your expectations of raising within the current ecclesiastical year the required one hundred thousand dollars be realized, it will afford another instance of the heartiness and vigour of our common Methodism, and of its flexibility in adapting its plans and economies to the varying requirements and circumstances of the times. Your attention to the higher education for both sexes is certainly worthy of commendation.

With regard to our own labours, we are happy to inform you that during the past year they have not been in vain in the Lord. After filling up vacancies occasioned by deaths and other causes, we report an increase of 3,146 members in our Societies in Great Britain, and of 3,328 on our Mission-stations. Although the increase at home is under the average of recent years, yet we are thankful that amid the distractions and disturbing influences of a year of unusual political excitement, we have had unbroken Connexional peace and some measure of prosperity.

The material progress which has marked our several institutions for some time past has been satisfactorily sustained during the last year. The statistics of chapel-building are equally gratifying with those that have appeared in the annual reports of this department of our work for several successive years. Wesleyan day-schools are multiplied, as well as Sunday-schools, notwithstanding that the question of primary education is in an unsettled state, and that important changes are deemed probable by those who, on this subject, watch closely the tendencies of the times. We have added within the year a new Branch to our Theological Institution, by the opening, under favourable auspices, of the Headingley College. Our Home-Missionary operations are productive of good fruit; and, had we the means, are capable of indefinite development. This is especially the case in our large towns, where we have easy access to the masses of the people, and where truly "the fields are white unto the harvest."

We have been greatly gladdened during the present session of Conference by many indications which show that the Methodism of the present is in harmony, in doctrines, spirit, and aims, with the Methodism of the past. And with regard to the future, it would be difficult for any one interested in the work of God to listen to the public examinations of our candidates for ordination just held, without feeling thankful that whatever guarantee for orthodoxy and spirituality is involved in a converted ministry is possessed by our churches. Whilst tendencies towards superstition on the one hand, and rationalism on the other, prevail around us, we are persuaded that there is a growing desire amongst ourselves and people to attain to the simplicity, directness of aim, and soul-converting power which characterized the early Methodist preachers.

We cheerfully leave to the assembled brethren the choice of the President of your next Conference. The Co-Delegate will, according to the terms of union, be appointed by the President so elected.

And now, dear brethren, we commend you to the grace of our common Master, and wish you, through the abundant blessing of the Lord the Spirit, a very happy and prosperous year.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

METHODIST CHURCH IN FRANCE, 1869,

IN CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH CONFERENCE,

CONFERENCE IN ENGLAND, 1869.

(TRANSLATION.)

DEAR AND HONOURED FATHERS AND BRETHREN,

FIRST of all we feel constrained to express our sincere gratitude for the unwavering interest of Christian sympathy you manifest towards us. Our trials are varied, and are accumulating; and in the sharp struggle we are called to sustain against so many hostile influences, how valuable to us is the cheering assurance that we can still rely on your support and prayers!

Your discernment has marked our first and greatest difficulty: the conflict to which we are called in order to retain "the faith once delivered to the saints." At present, infidelity more than ever assumes an aggressive attitude. Its attacks are directed on parts of the Continent, where hitherto, in general, evangelical truth had been peaceably proclaimed. The public discussions raised this year in French Switzerland, by the adversaries of the truth, have demonstrated the duty of standing ready always, and in every place, to render a reason of the "hope that is in us." And in this season of crisis, in which all are compelled to "prove all things," our prayer to God is, that it may be given to each of us to "hold fast that which is good;" and that in preaching the "foolishness" of "the cross of Christ," we may ever be able to affirm that "we believe, and therefore speak."

At the present period, we cannot, any more than for several years past, be silent on the subject of our painful financial position. Already our embarrassment yields the sad results long since foreseen. We feel weakened, and the hard necessity for concentration forces us to the abandonment of some outposts; in consequence we mourn the loss of hundreds of hearers, and of a certain number of members, by which we are prevented from reporting a marked progress on the whole of our extensive field of labour. We also make this year a fresh addition to our old debt; and, unless God sends us increased help, we must, though with heartfelt grief, proceed still further with measures of retrenchment. With all true Christians, we rejoice in the events which open Italy and Spain to the Gospel; but we are convinced that these calls of God to His Church bind her, in the first place, to be more than ever in earnest to spread the Gospel over that great and influential nation which is the neighbour and, in church-affairs, the strength of the countries where the Pope's authority is attacked by political parties.

After having placed on your hearts the causes of our deep perplexity, we cannot pass over the motives to thanksgiving which are furnished to us by the fidelity of our God. We praise Him first for the increased liberality to which He has inclined several of our churches. An addition of four thousand francs (£160) has been made this year to the receipts for Circuit-work. This progress is due to three causes: first, to a spirit of sacrifice on the part of many members; secondly, to the growth of the congregations in some parts of the Connexion; thirdly, to special efforts, on the repetition of which it would be imprudent to calculate.

In the next place, we give thanks for the influence of the Holy Spirit in our assemblies. Although, from prejudice against class-meetings, many persons converted by our ministry cannot be added to our ranks, still we have received a sufficiently large number of new members to fill up vacancies from departures, deaths, and other causes, and to leave a slight increase.

We praise God too for the spiritual movements which we have witnessed in Paris and elsewhere, in Roman-Catholic centres. In the capital of the French empire, especially, a revival has gladdened the hearts of our brethren, and shown us how fully that vast field of labour is thrown open, and how it seems only to invite to labour the strong arm of the plougher, and the active hands of the sower.

We cannot omit to bring under your notice likewise the urgent appeals made to our Conference this year, —one to occupy Marseilles, the most populous of our southern cities; and one from the Poitou,—an extensive western province, where about fifty thousand Protestants are comparatively abandoned to ignorance and rationalism. To these Macedonian calls, how hard to be forced to answer: It is impossible for us to come to your help!

Lastly, our schools are amongst the subjects of gratitude presented by the work which God has intrusted to us. Our educational establishments at Nîmes are full, and promise for the future the spiritual results of which the past is the pledge.

Dear and honoured Fathers and Brethren, in the critical period which we have to traverse, we look for our help and our salvation from God who has made heaven and earth. We lift up to Him our hearts and our hands. We entreat Him to plead His own cause. We strive to rely on His faithfulness, and we pray for grace to prosecute our holy mission, without fainting, and in a spirit of perfect self-sacrifice. Brethren, pray for us!

We have nominated the Rev. Luke Pulsford as our President for the coming year, and respectfully request you to confirm his re-appointment. He is also our Representative to your Assembly this year.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE FRENCH CONFERENCE, 1869.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

We have listened with interest and satisfaction to your affectionate Address, and to the statements of your Representative, the Rev. Luke Pulsford; and from our hearts we reciprocate all your expressions of brotherly love.

We rejoice with you that, in the midst of difficulties and severe discouragements, He who "knoweth them that are His" has continued to fulfil to you the promise that His people shall never be ashamed. He has given you victory where the world would have prophesied disaster and defeat. First and chiefly, we join you in devout thanksgiving for the gifts of the Holy Ghost, bestowed on your Societies during the past year. The Lord has in many ways revealed His presence with you: in the enlargement of your congregations, in the addition of new members to your Societies, and in the spirit of self-sacrifice which has animated both ministers and people. It is highly encouraging to hear that the most important fields of labour are at last open to you, and especially that in Paris the Word of the Lord is no longer bound. We cannot over-estimate the value of a general revival of God's work in your metropolis at this critical time. You have long sown seed in sorrow: our earnest prayer is, that you may speedily know the joy of the reaper. We feel, with you, that it is a matter of deep regret that you have not been able to respond to the urgent appeals which you have received from important districts and centres of influence; but, at the same time, we thankfully recognise these calls as additional proofs that the blessing of God is resting on your work.

The report which you give of the state of your educational establishments has given us the greatest satisfaction, and inspires us with lively hope for the future.

We have observed with interest that some of your special difficulties are similar to those with which we ourselves are now contending. The insidious advance of Rationalism, and of a philosophy which is altogether earthly; the renewed energy and revived pretensions of the Church of Rome, and the weakness of many who bear the name of Protestants, have laid upon our minds, as upon yours, much anxious care. We have lately passed through a whirl of political excitement, most trying to the interests of experimental religion. Like yourselves, we have to mourn that many who gladly join in our public worship, decline the closer spiritual communion of the class-meeting. This fellowship in trial makes us more intensely sensible of our real brotherhood, and of the oneness of our cause. Your battle and ours must be fought with the same weapons. Above all things, we need the fulness of "the heavenly gift;" the sanctifying influence of the Holy Spirit. Unbelief cannot be overcome by clear and cold statements of truth: we must banish death by presenting life. Painful as it is to witness the attacks of aggressive infidelity, this foe is less formidable than total indifference. The truth to which you cling is equal to the conflict. Our peculiar organization, commanding varied agencies, and binding together all our Societies into one family, gives special advantages in such a struggle as yours; in which there is so much to weary him who, without relief and without sympathy, toils alone from year to year. We doubt not that you think with us, that the principle of our itinerant ministry is the source of our strength, and the condition of our progress at home: we are persuaded that nothing less will meet the necessities of Methodist work in France. The signs of the times show us how essential it is that the minds of the rising ministry should be richly stored with theological truth, and their hearts fully imbued with love to the Master. May the Head of the Church continue amongst you the succession of faithful men!

We are fully sensible of the difficulties occasioned by your financial embarrassments. We know well that you have ever been ready to take up the cross, to sustain any personal inconvenience for the Master's sake; and that you have been conscientiously unwilling to abandon fields of labour,—however unpromising these may have been. It is very painful to us to feel that there does exist a necessity for thus retreating. Concentration will give greater strength; and freedom from financial pressure will, by God's blessing, be the means of the revival of His work.

We gladly accede to your request, that your honoured Representative, the Rev. Luke Pulsford, may be appointed to preside over your next Conference.

Let us, dear brethren, strengthen our hands in God. We offer earnest and continued prayer on your behalf. Let us, at this time especially, join in devout supplication that the Disposer of all events may turn the counsel of the Church of Rome into foolishness; and that the year which is about to witness its awful assumption of authority, may also behold it hastening to its fall. "Now our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work."

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

AUSTRALASIAN WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH, 1869,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869.

---

Honoured Fathers and Brethren,

The Address from your Conference recently held in Liverpool was listened to by us with respectful attention and heartiest good will. In point of local distance we may be the remotest offshoot of British Methodism, but oceans and mountains cannot obstruct the transmission and return of sympathy and love between us and you.

One of the subjects of most vital interest alike to us and you, at the present time, is the safe organization and due maintenance of the Missionary enterprise. And we can assure you, that never have the circumstances of our Polynesian Missions been more carefully examined by us than during the present Conference. Some of our best and ablest laymen were present when the question was discussed of immediately accepting the responsibility of sustaining Methodist Missions in Polynesia, and of fixing the time when grants from your Mission Fund to ours should cease. But the discouragement thrown over Mission advocacy at present by the recent atrocities of Maori fanaticism in New-Zealand; the serious difficulties arising, and likely to arise, from the transition state of society in Fiji, where, it is said, more than a thousand white persons have already settled without any effective restraint from British law; and the distress and depression pervading these Colonies, even during the sittings of the Conference, from another period of severe drought,—seemed effectually to chill our long-cherished ambition to accept the undivided responsibility of maintaining our Polynesian Missions in full efficiency. But we have resolved that no new outlay shall be incurred, and that no means shall be neglected, on our part, to release you from an expenditure which, we well know, in some degree restrains your efforts on behalf of greater and more populous fields than ours. To enable us to investigate more fully the necessities and the resources of our Polynesian Missions, we have appointed our esteemed brethren Watkin and Rabone a deputation to visit the islands during the next trip of the "Wesley." This fine vessel arrived most opportunely about a week before the sittings of the Conference, bringing four Missionary brethren from the islands of Tonga, Samoa, and Fiji, who have been most helpful in the deliberations of the Conference, and contributed very much to the interest and power of our annual Missionary Meeting; which proved to be one of the most successful services of its kind which we have seen in Australia. The prime importance of trained native agency was a sentiment continually recurring in all our conversations on Missionary matters, and its truth received striking illustration from the presence in the Conference of two well-known and long-tried Native Ministers from Tonga and Samoa, who were heartily and unanimously greeted as faithful brethren among us in the ministry of the Lord Jesus.

Our Chinese Mission came before us under circumstances which compelled us both to sorrow and to rejoice. We rejoiced that Christianity is extending its influence among the Chinese in Victoria by native agency. A Joss-house in the Castlemaine District has been converted into a place of Christian worship, and its priest has become a preacher of that glorious Gospel before which idols everywhere fall and pass away. But our sorrow is stirred, as we remember that our beloved brother Caldwell, whom you sent out to us in the "Wesley," and who had proceeded to China to learn its language under the care of our brother Piercy, was drowned in September last, near Canton. His modesty, his intelligence, his fervent piety, and his great love to China, impressed all who had any intercourse with him. We sorrow deeply over this bereavement, and yet not "as others who have no hope." Our hope stands unshaken in the great "Lord of the harvest," who in the person of our beloved young brother, saw good just to show and then to withdraw one of His many gifts to men, but whose regal and affluent Hand still holds "unsearchable riches" for His Church. We pray that He may raise up among us not a few wise and holy workers on behalf of the thousands of Chinese in Australia.

Our churches generally are free from the blighting influences of faction and false doctrine. Our difficulties in many parts of our home-work are very great; but we are cheered by the persuasion that they are the difficulties which belong to growth and not to decay. We are able to report a net increase of members in Australia and Tasmania amounting to nine hundred and eighteen, and in the Mission Districts to five hundred and ninety-nine, in all one thousand five hundred and seventeen, with two thousand one hundred and one on trial in our home-churches, and six thousand eight hundred and fifty-two in our Missionary churches. Fifteen young men have been accepted, and appointed to Circuits as probationers for our ministry, and six others were set apart to receive some preparation in our Collegiate Institutions. Three of these important auxiliaries to our work have been for some years in full operation in the colonies of New South Wales, Victoria, and Tasmania, and a fourth has commenced its operations in Adelaide.

Queensland greatly needs our assistance, and the Conference has made a special effort to enable our brethren there to reach out over the vast area, which they are striving to pervade with the light of Christian ordinances.

This our fifteenth Conference has equalled any that have preceded it, in the number and gravity of the interests which we have been called to consider; and we deeply feel our need of a richer endowment of the Spirit of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

But we may assure you that there is among us no shrinking back from our duty to the Lord Jesus, or from our pledges to Wesleyan Methodism, a system which God has so greatly honoured, and to which we are individually so much indebted. We pray for you years of great peace and enlargement. To copy your example, to reproduce your institutions, and, if it be possible, to equal your success, this is our highest ambition for the Methodist churches of this southern world.

It has been a great advantage and satisfaction to us that this very important Conference has been conducted under the judicious and energetic presidency of our much esteemed brother the Rev. William L. Binks. We now respectfully ask that you will appoint the Rev. George Hurst to be President of the Conference of 1870. His ability, and his long and valuable services in the interest of Methodism, fully entitle him to this expression of our confidence and esteem.

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE AUSTRALASIAN CONFERENCE, 1869.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Your fraternal Address has been received with sincere pleasure, and the statements of the Rev. J. C. Symons, who is now sojourning amongst us, as to the progress and prospects of your work, have been listened to with great interest and satisfaction. "We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers; remembering, without ceasing, your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father."

We recognise, with you, the importance of the question so carefully considered at your late Conference, namely, "the safe organization and due maintenance of the Missionary enterprise;" and we sympathize with you in your anxious endeavour to accept the entire responsibility of the Polynesian Missions. We have full confidence that at no very distant period you will be able, by God's blessing, to fulfil this your earnest desire. In the mean time be assured that, amidst the discouragements attending the prosecution of your Mission in New-Zealand, and the difficulties surrounding your work in Fiji, you have our most fervent prayers that "the things which happen unto" you may "fall out rather unto the furtherance of the Gospel."

We regard the progress of your Chinese Mission in Victoria with increasing interest, both on account of its direct results and its probable influence on the future of the vast empire of China. We rejoice in the success which it has pleased the great Head of the Church to grant you in connection with that infant Mission, and in the interesting evidence which your Address supplies, that the Gospel is still "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." At the same time, we mourn with you over the loss of your valued brother, the Rev. J. Caldwell, from whom you naturally expected many years of honourable and useful service, but who, in his "youthful prime," has been suddenly called to his eternal reward. The more recent bereavements which you have been called to sustain, in the death, by the hand of Maori violence, of the Rev. John Whiteley in New-Zealand, and the murder of the Rev. William Hill in Australia, have awakened our deepest sorrow, and called forth our warmest sympathy. May He who is "alive for evermore, and who has in His right hand seven stars," raise up many to fill the places of your sainted dead, and endue them with the rich anointing of the Holy Ghost!

We are thankful to hear of the increase of members in your Home and Missionary churches, as well as of the large number on trial for membership. We rejoice in the freedom of your Societies from faction and false doctrine. We congratulate you on the growth of your Institutions, and the increasing provision which is being made for the efficacy of your rising ministry. And we are encouraged by your renewed assurances of loyalty to Christ and allegiance to Wesleyan Methodism. In all these things we would acknowledge the good hand of our God upon you, whilst we see in them an earnest of yet more abundant blessings to the myriads of your countrymen.

Our present Conference has been one of great interest, and has been rich in spiritual blessing. At our preparatory Committees we were favoured with an unusually large attendance of our lay brethren, whose intelligent piety, deep interest in our affairs, enlightened discussion of various questions, and attachment to the doctrines and institutions of Methodism, were never more apparent. Our various deliberations have been conducted in a spirit of candour and brotherly love, of fidelity to Christ and our solemn trust, and of thorough devotion to our great mission, to "spread scriptural holiness throughout the land." Our public services, both in the large sanctuaries of this town, and out of doors, have been very numerously attended; and, in instances not a few, have been honoured in the conversion of souls to Christ.

We are thankful to report an addition to our numbers, during the past year, of three thousand one hundred and forty-six, and twenty thousand five hundred and ninety-six on trial. We are painfully conscious, however, that this increase is by no means commensurate with our manifold agencies, and is greatly disproportionate to the increase in the population of our land. And, amidst the aboundings of iniquity, the prevalence of scepticism, and "the oppositions of science falsely so called," we seem to hear a louder call than ever to "hold fast the form of sound words in faith and love which are in Christ Jesus," and "the things which" we have "heard among many witnesses, the same" to "commit to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also." You will join with us in earnest prayer, that upon every department of our work may descend a more copious outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

According to your unanimous request, we appoint the Rev. George Hurst to the Presidency of your next annual Conference.

"And now," dear brethren, "we commend you to God, and to the word of His grace." The Lord God of "our fathers make you a thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, as He hath promised you." And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, may you receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away!

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH OF EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1869,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869.

---

Reverend and very dear Fathers and Brethren,

By the favour of God, we are assembled to hold our fifteenth Conference in the city of Charlotte-Town, the finely situated and spacious capital of the beautiful and fertile island of Prince Edward, now in its summer prime. Here, as well as throughout the island, Methodism, deeply rooted, is yielding abundant fruit in the highest welfare of multitudes. Since our Conference last met in this city, the church has been erected in which we are now convened, which, for commodiousness and adaptation to all the purposes of our Connexion, would compare favourably with the best of the sacred edifices in either of the four provinces comprised in the ample extent of our Conference.

It was one of our first duties, agreeably to your instructions, to elect a President and Co-Delegate from "the assembled brethren." We have chosen to the former office our esteemed brother the Rev. Henry Daniel, who of all our number has had the longest experience in the home-work, the benefit of which he wisely endeavours, from the Presidential chair, to infuse into our own proceedings. The Rev. Henry Pope, jun., was cordially elected Co-Delegate.

As soon as our Conference was thus properly constituted, we were privileged to hear your Answer to our Address of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight. The terms of unabated affection in which you speak to us; the approval you give to our efforts for promoting education on Christian principles; and the sympathy that you extend to us in our financial and other difficulties, gladden our hearts. Our determination has thus been strengthened, through God, singly to pursue the great objects of Wesleyan Methodism, by those firmly-grounded, well-tried means, that have ever been so greatly honoured in the parent body. We rejoice to acknowledge that "the truth as it is in Jesus," exemplified in holiness of life, "is indeed the true source of our strength." We hope always strenuously to act upon the conviction which we inherit from the venerated Founder of our Connexion, that its proper work is, "to spread scriptural holiness" throughout the land and world.

We are fervently thankful that you could inform us of an increase in your Societies of upwards of five thousand members, and more than twenty-four thousand on trial. To God alone be the glory! We have had a good year in our Circuits. In some places, especially the city of Halifax, there have been genuine revivals of spiritual religion. It is not, however, our happiness to report an augmentation in the total number of our members. One cause of this is, the stream of emigration that constantly runs from these provinces to the United States. Other causes may be found in the lowly condition of multitudes of our hearers; and the long distance at which a great many of them reside from those local centres of population where class-meetings may be formed, and efficiently maintained. Withal, our labour is far from being in vain. Besides very nearly supplying the places of the "removed" and "deceased," we have now, God be praised, more than twelve hundred on probation. Realizing that our first aim as Methodist preachers is to be instrumental of saving as many souls as we can, we have again renewed the consecration of ourselves to this holy service, and trust, that by giving ourselves "continually to prayer and to the ministry of the word," we shall everywhere see "much people added unto the Lord."

Our unremitting attention is directed to our youth. We purpose herein to abound more and more. The number of scholars in our Sabbath-schools is fifteen thousand seven hundred and forty two, an increase on the year of eight hundred and four. The service annually held by us for the Sabbath-schools of the Conference town was this year pre-eminently delightful, edifying, and full of hope.

Our Institutions at Sackville have prospered. The unequalled opportunities, in these provinces, which are there afforded for the higher branches of education, and thorough training for general business and the professions, as well as for the cultivation of youthful piety, unite to enable our educational establishment to lay a firm hold on the mind and heart of our people generally. More students have availed themselves of its advantages of late, than for some time previously. In this vital department of our enterprise the future is full of promise. The indebtedness on account of our valuable possessions at Sackville has been considerably reduced. Wesley College has continued in successful operation. Assuredly it will yet be more numerously attended by those of our ingenuous, ardent young people, who may be able to gratify their laudable aspirations for a complete collegiate course of instruction.

The class of theological students was not large last year, owing to the urgent demands of our work, and the comparatively limited number of candidates for our ministry. At this Conference we have received three young men on trial. Two of these must at once be appointed to Circuits. Efficient arrangements have been made for the training of such probationers as can be spared from our work, all of whom are anxious to enjoy the advantages of further, and specific, mental and Methodist culture. The two brethren who at this Conference acceptably completed their probation of four years have been ordained. The ordination service was numerously attended, and was a season of sacredness and gracious visitation.

The affairs of our Book-Room, and "Provincial Wesleyan" Office, have received our best attention. The publication of our weekly organ has not been without pecuniary loss. The debt which has thus been incurred will be definitely assumed by us collectively. The removal of this burden of rather heavy financial liability will give buoyancy to the business of our Conference-Office. We have appointed our excellent brother, the Rev. H. Pickard, D.D., Book-Steward and Editor. Other changes have been made, each of which is likely to be beneficial to the concern. We intend not to be wanting in appropriate efforts to supply our people with the literature of our own Connexion. This we know to be, for the purpose of religious edification, inferior to none in the world. The geography of our Conference has been unfavourable to the highest success in this department hitherto; but we resolve to avail ourselves of the increasing facilities of each year for intercolonial communication.

Our funds have, in general, been well supported. The contributions to the Foreign Missions are slightly in advance of those of last year. We thank you for the suggestion to try to give fresh stimulus to our General and Local Missionary Auxiliaries. It is one which we shall act upon to the utmost of our opportunity. Our Home-Mission Fund was last year separated from the Contingent Fund, and it will henceforth have its own peculiar sphere. This has commended itself to our people, who have supported it liberally. We believe they will continue to do so, which is a matter of most urgent necessity. The fields of our labour are very extensive. The extreme points are separated from each other by many hundreds of miles of land and sea. Many of the Circuits are much too large. The population is often sparse. Missionaries are required, that the people may be effectually reached. These, when set to work, must be sustained by grants from our Home-Mission Fund. But, alas! we fear it will be long before we shall overtake the demand, and give an adequate supply of labourers to those vast fields which are "white already to harvest." We resolve to do our best herein, and pray that God may be pleased to call forth from the educated and converted youth of our churches men, after His own heart, to preach His word, with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven.

We thank you for your expressions of fraternal love to those of the brethren who have become Supernumeraries. They render frequent and valuable assistance to the Superintendents of the Circuits in which they reside. It has become our duty to inform you that the Rev Ingham Sutcliffe, and the Rev. James R. Narraway, A.M., have been obliged to ask for permission to desist from our full work, for at least one year. We have consented to these brethren being Supernumeraries until the next Conference. The former will be remembered as a Missionary who was sent to Canada in 1831, and has since laboured with equal acceptance and success, sometimes in much affliction, in all the provinces of Eastern-British America. Brother Sutcliffe designs to visit England in the course of the year. We beg to recommend him to your highest esteem and affection, as a faithful fellow-labourer in our Lord's vineyard. Brother Narraway has been for twenty-eight years an eloquent and successful minister among us. He has occupied with honour some of our most laborious, and others of our most important, Circuits. Compelled at present to seek rest from his customary toil, he is presented for your warmest friendship, as a brother greatly beloved.

It is our happiness to describe the state of our church in the welcome terms in which you speak of the Parent Connexion: "the past year has been one of uninterrupted peace." The public questions which agitated some of our people awhile ago, have been, it is believed, approximately settled. We stand aloof from partisanship in the affairs of the State; but our undying solicitude for the true and permanent welfare of this portion of the empire of Great Britain evokes our earnest prayers. By example and precept we teach our congregations to pray for the Queen, and for "all that are in authority." We have not the least reason to believe that the loyalty of our Societies has in any degree been shaken, notwithstanding the great changes which by Imperial authority have of late been introduced into some of these provinces. We shall regard it as our privilege and our duty to be ourselves, and to lead all our people to be, exemplary for loyalty and devotion to our Queen and country.

We have learned, that our honoured Ex-President, the Rev. William Morley Punshon, M.A., is enabled to continue "in labours more abundant." We shall rejoice if his success shall be so great and enduring as to earn for him imperishable fame as the evangelist of Canada. That "the way to the kingdom," as taught by yourself and by us, is now proclaimed in every land which speaks our language, and in others also, is surely not the least observable of the wonders of Providence. May this "joyful sound" be still efficaciously extended until our prayer shall be fully answered, that He who has died for all, and who is therefore Lord of all, would—

"Teach the new song
To every nation, and people, and tongue."

We respectfully submit for your approval and appointment as our next President, the Rev. Humphrey Pickard, D.D. He has been long and favourably known to you as a faithful minister in all the various and responsible stations in which he has been placed. Our request that he may be our President in 1870, will assure you of our undiminished confidence in his integrity and promptitude as our Financial Agent,—an office which we have requested him to retain, he having from the first discharged its duties to our entire satisfaction. We also submit for your approval and appointment as Co-Delegate, the name of the Rev. James Hennigar.

The session has been one of great harmony. Business, from day to day, has been dispatched considerately, according to our Rules. The public religious services have been "times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord." The community have manifested an approving interest in all our proceedings to which they have been admitted. The preaching has been well attended, and highly appreciated. It cannot fail to be edifying.

In a few hours we shall separate, each to proceed to his allotted sphere of toil, we hope, too, of triumph. We have greatly enjoyed this opportunity of fraternal intercourse. "Behold how good it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The continuance of our brotherly love will be secured by "the love of the Spirit." We shall strive in this spirit to pursue our calling. May the pleasure of the Lord prosper in our hand! Difficulties, we know, must be encountered.

But greater is He that is in His servants than he that is in the world. Thus devoted to our work, and keeping in memory your exemplary zeal and paternal counsels, we solicit, as we are sure we shall have, a continued interest in your prayers and supplications.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1869

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH IN EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1869.

REVEREND AND VERY DEAR BRETHREN,

WE receive your Address with deep interest and much satisfaction, not only because of our unabated Christian affection towards you, but also on account of the signs of the Divine favour and blessing upon your labour which it records.

While, owing to a continued stream of emigration, you do not so reap the fruit of your successes as to be able to report an increase of members, you will have comfort in the assurance that they will strengthen the churches of the United States. The number on trial for membership amongst you is encouraging. And your godly resolve to renew your devotion to the prayerful ministry of the Word of Life nourishes the hope that such blessing may crown your efforts in the coming year as may realize the desires of your hearts.

We rejoice to learn that your Sabbath-schools are flourishing. We are also thankful that you appreciate the importance of directing special attention to the training of the youth of your congregations in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." This subject we have marked with emphasis in our Pastoral Address to the Societies in more immediate connection with ourselves.

We congratulate you upon the improving state of your various funds; upon the promise in your Connexional educational Institutions; and upon the success of efforts to promote the diffusion of Christian literature. We earnestly pray that the zeal with which you are cultivating the extensive fields providentially committed to your care, may be sustained and encouraged by the richest tokens of the Divine favour.

You will be gratified to hear that we are determined to maintain in its integrity the distinctive character of our system as founded upon the spiritual fellowship of its members. We are also resolved to maintain our constant testimony against the evils of superstition and its reaction, scepticism, under whatever phases presented, and to be faithful to our one great work of saving souls. We rejoice, in our Connexion as in our Conference, in the blessings of peace,—the peace, thank God, not of stagnation and death, but of Christian harmony and love. May this "grace and peace be multiplied" to us and to you.

The increase in the number of our members for the year is 3,146, and we have 20,596 on trial, with an additional increase on our Foreign Stations of 3,328. The reports of our Home and Foreign Missions, and of our Chapel and Schools' Committees, are generally encouraging.

Some of our eminent ministers have passed away from us in the triumph of the faith they loved to preach; while others, in declining years, retire from the more active services of the churches. But by the mercy of God, we have a succession of young men arising to consecrate their energies to the great cause so faithfully cherished by their honoured predecessors.

We have much pleasure in appointing the Rev. Humphrey Pickard, D.D., as your President for 1870; and, as Co-Delegate, the Rev. James Hennigar, according to your request; and we shall cordially welcome the brother whom you commend to our esteem and affection, in connection with his proposed visit to England.

Receive, dear brethren, our acknowledgment of the fraternal affection so gracefully communicated in your Address, which we cordially reciprocate; and we pray that the baptisms of the Holy Spirit may copiously descend upon you, and upon the glorious work in which we are mutually engaged.

ANSWER TO THE ADDRESS OF CONGRATULATION TO THE QUEEN FROM THE CONFERENCE OF 1868.

Whitehall, September 30th, 1868.

SIR,

I HAVE had the honour to lay before the Queen the loyal and dutiful Address, forwarded by you, of the Wesleyan Ministers assembled in Annual Conference in Liverpool, on the occasion of the restoration to health of the Princess of Wales, and of her Royal Highness having given birth to a Princess, and on the subject of the atrocious attempt upon the life of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh. And I beg to inform you that Her Majesty was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

GATHORNE HARDY.

MEETING OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF REVIEW,

HELD IN HULL, JULY 28TH, 1869.

The Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall, President of the Conference, in the Chair.

I. Moved by the Rev. John Bedford, Ex-President of the Conference; seconded by Mr. Alderman Atkinson, of Hull:

That this Committee would express its heartfelt thanksgiving to the Great Head of the Church, for the manifold successes and blessings which, through His grace, have attended the operations of the Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society hitherto, and for the position and prospects of the Society at the present time; especially acknowledging with gratitude the large increase during the year in the number of church-members, the continued supply of faithful labourers, the gradual development of native agency, and the new and extended effort in various parts of the world.

II. Moved by the Rev. William Arthur, M.A.; seconded by Mr. Alexander M'Arthur, of London:

That the Committee regards with satisfaction the increase in the regular income from subscriptions and collections during the past year; but as the income from these sources is inadequate to the expenditure, leaving the Society dependent upon receipts which are necessarily fluctuating and uncertain, the Committee would urge upon their friends throughout the country the necessity of raising the regular income, so as to equal the ordinary expenditure.

III. Moved by Mr. H. H. Fowler, of Wolverhampton; seconded by the Rev. Dr. Osborn:

That the Committee would avail itself of the opportunity afforded by the winding up of the Jubilee Fund, and the publication of the Report, to renew its expressions of gratitude for the extraordinary liberality displayed in connection with that movement; for the manifested tokens of the Divine presence and blessing which accompanied its progress; and for the satisfactory manner in which, notwithstanding unexpected difficulties, it has been brought to a close.

IV. Moved by the Rev. Dr. George Scott; seconded by Mr. Tombleson, of Barton:

That the Committee recommends that the thanks of the Conference be presented to James Heald, Esq. and the Rev. Dr. Jobson, General Treasurers; and to the General Secretaries of the Society, for their services during the past year.

V. Moved by the Rev. Dr. Rigg; seconded by Sir Francis Lycett:

That, considering the large increase in the number of ministers and members of Society in the metropolis since the Missionary Society was first constituted, this Committee begs respectfully to suggest to the Conference whether the time has not arrived for an enlargement of the Executive Committee, both as respects the number of ministers and the number of laymen belonging to it.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE NEW-KINGSWOOD AND WOODHOUSE-GROVE SCHOOLS AND EDUCATION FUND,

HELD IN HULL, JULY 28TH, 1869.

PRESENT, the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall, President of the Conference, in the Chair; the Rev. John Farrar, the Secretary of the Conference; the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy, the Treasurer of the Fund; the Rev. Frederick Payne and the Rev. John Harvard, the Secretaries of the Fund, and other members of the Committee.

The Reports of the Local Committees and Examiners were read. It appeared that the discipline and tuition of the schools had been maintained in undiminished efficiency, as tested by the most careful and discriminating examinations, held at the close of the year, and by the success of so many of the boys at the Oxford Middle-Class Examinations, twenty-two having passed that ordeal. The schools have enjoyed almost perfect immunity from sickness; and the religious tone is decidedly improved. The Treasurer read the cash account, from which it appeared that the income from the ordinary sources was £175 in advance of last year; that coincidently the claims on the fund had been reduced; and that consequently the deficiency to be supplied by the Children's Fund was nearly £700 less than last year.

It was unanimously resolved to recommend that the thanks of the Conference be presented:—

1. To the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy and John Meek, Esq., the General Treasurers; the Rev. Frederick Payne and the Rev. John Harvard, the General Secretaries; and to the Local Treasurers, Secretaries, and Committees; for their diligent and efficient discharge of the duties of their respective offices during the year.

2. To the Rev. William H. Sargent and the Rev. Henry H. Chettle, the Governors of the Schools, and to Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Chettle, for their kind attention to the comfort of the children under their care during the year.

3. To the Rev. William F. Moulton, M.A., the Rev. Benjamin Hellier, and the Rev. W. Stevinson, B.A., for the able manner in which they have discharged the duties of Classical and Mathematical Examiners at New-Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove Schools respectively; and to the gentlemen who have kindly served the Institutions by examining the boys in other branches of learning.

Aid promised.

The Committee have promised during the year £4,035 in Grants, and £6,500 in Loans, to 126 chapels, contingent on the fulfilment by the Trustees of the conditions agreed upon.

Sales.

During the past year the Committee have sanctioned 49 sales, including 34 chapels, 29 of which are to be replaced by new erections, 3 ministers' houses, 2 lots of cottage-property, 9 plots of vacant land, and 1 right of common.

Erections completed.

The following is a summary of the cases returned through the May District Meetings as completed:—84 chapels, at a cost of £94,453; 5 ministers' houses, £3,921; 22 schools, £19,770; 39 enlargements and alterations, £14,639; 21 organs, £3,391; total, 171 cases, completed according to the terms agreed upon with the Committee, at a cost of £136,174. The debt remaining is £16,907. In 50 other cases the conditions agreed upon have not been fulfilled. The outlay has been £53,792; debts amounting to £11,673 were sanctioned; the actual debts are £19,173, being an excess of £7,500. Forty additional cases were undertaken without Connexional sanction, at a cost of £16,214; the debt remaining is £5,452, being no less than 33⅓ per cent. of the outlay.

Aid afforded.

During the year £1,645 in Grants, and £2,245 in Loans, have been paid from the Erections' Fund towards the cost of 42 chapels.

Entire Cost.

The entire cost of all erections and enlargements, regular and irregular, reported this year as completed, has been £206,180, being £42,748 less than the sum reported last year, but more than the sum reported in any year except the last two years.

II. RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

(1.) Grants.

£1,319 have been paid during the year towards the removal of debt on 23 chapels. Twelve of the chapel trusts relieved are now free from debt.

(2.) Loans.

The sum of £6,531 17*s.* 0*d.* has been received in Loan instalments during the year. The Loans advanced to 40 chapels amount to £8,614, to meet £11,280. On 19 of these chapels no debt now remains besides the Loans. The number of Loans now in operation is 316. The North and South Wales Loan-Committees have advanced £890 in Loans, to meet £930 raised by Trustees.

III. LOCAL EFFORTS AND SURPLUS INCOME.

During the year the sum of £27,308 12*s.* 3*d.* has been paid off by local efforts and surplus income.

Contributions to Circuit Funds.

One thousand nine hundred and fifty chapel trusts have contributed £19,873. 5*s.* 7*d.*, being an increase of 111 trusts, and of £1,985. 8*s.* in contributions.

SUMMARY OF DEBTS DISCHARGED.

The total amounts of debts which have been either entirely discharged, or for the progressive extinction of which definite arrangements have been made, are as follows:—

| | By aid of Grants. | By aid of Loans. | Exclusively by local efforts and surplus income. | Totals. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| In 1868–9 ..... | £6,800 | £21,804 | £27,309 | £55,913 |
| From 1854–68... | 183,646 | 301,763 | 164,881 | 650,290 |
| Total..... | £190,446 | £323,567 | £192,190 | £706,203 |

TOTAL OF ASCERTAINED OUTLAY.

If to the sum of £55,913, applied to the reduction or extinction of debts, there be added £206,180 expended in new erections and enlargements, it will appear that the aggregate amount expended during the year on Wesleyan-Methodist Trust-property, is £262,093. The amount actually contributed, including Grants from Connexional Funds, is £210,227.

IV. GENERAL MANAGEMENT OF TRUST-ESTATES.

The Returns presented to the Committee this year show a large number of cases in which the expenditure exceeds the income. In most cases the deficiency is caused by heavy debt. The Committee strongly urge upon the Trustees the importance of the removal of this debt. The Committee are glad to report an increase of 109 in the number of Trust-properties insured against fire; but they must again urge upon the 3,547 Trusts yet uninsured the risk and danger both to the property and to the cause of God. The District Committees recommend increased contributions to Connexional funds, especially to the Chapel Fund and Theological Institution Fund; that balances in the hand of Trustee-Treasurers be applied to the reduction of debt; that greater care be taken to secure accuracy in the annual schedules; that Circuit-safes be provided for the deposit of Trust Deeds; that Trusts be duly renewed; that schemes for new erections and enlargements be more thoroughly considered before being undertaken; and that the expense of choirs and instrumental music be not paid out of Trust Funds.

Detailed information, in reference to each of the foregoing departments, will be found in the Report of the Committee, which will be issued in the course of the year.

The following Resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. Charles Haydon, of Plymouth; seconded by James Falshaw, Esq., of Edinburgh:

1. This Meeting rejoices to learn that, though from various causes the average outlay on new Chapel and School erections has been a little below the average of some recent years, yet the efforts made in favour of such erections have been marked by much zeal and liberality.

Moved by the Rev. G. T. Perks, M.A., of London; seconded by Mr. Thomas Bowers, of Chester:

2. While gratified that, in so many instances, the conditions of erection and enlargement agreed upon with the Chapel Committee have been faithfully fulfilled, this Meeting regrets that, in various cases, such conditions have not, as yet, been observed, and that some erections are yet undertaken in violation of the well-considered rules of the Connexion.

Moved by the Rev. M. C. Osborn, of London; seconded by Mr. Joshua Bryant, of Alford:

3. This Meeting is pleased to learn that a considerable portion of the annual income of the Chapel Fund is now rendered available for aid toward new erections, and that thus the fund is being employed for the extension of Methodism in many localities.

Moved by the Rev. Luke H. Wiseman, M.A., of London; seconded by Mr. Henry J. Atkinson, of Hull:

4. This Meeting rejoices to learn that vigorous efforts are being prosecuted for the removal of Chapel debts, and that there is an increasing demand for loans in aid of this object.

Moved by the Rev. G. Osborn, D.D., of Richmond; seconded by Mr. Joshua Moss, of Sheffield:

5. That this Meeting offers its thanks to the District Chapel Secretaries and Committees, the Circuit Chapel Secretaries, and to the Ministers and Trustees, for their valuable services in connection with Chapel and other Trust business during the year.

Moved by the Rev. William Shaw, of York;

seconded by Mr. William Mewburn, of Wykham-Park, Banbury:

6. That the thanks of the Meeting are due, and are hereby presented, to Mr. John Fernley and Mr. Samuel R. Healey, the Treasurers; to the Rev. Messrs. John Bedford and William Edwards, the General Secretaries; and to the Committee; for their diligent and faithful services during the year.

N.B. The lay members of the Committee were nominated according to Rule.

Moved by the Rev. Alexander M'Aulay; seconded by Mr. E. Pethybridge, of Launceston:

2. That this Committee is convinced that a much larger annual income is required, in order that the Committee of Management and the Conference may be enabled, with safety, at an early period to secure a minimum allowance to our ministers in our claimant Circuits, and also to extend our Mission-work in the metropolis, in our large towns, and in the rural districts; and also to strengthen our work for the benefit of Wesleyans in the Army and Royal Navy, so as to meet more fully the pressing claims upon the Methodists for enlarged evangelical action for the religious welfare of our own countrymen.

Moved by the Rev. James Clapham; seconded by Mr. Alfred Hall, of Bristol:

3. That this Committee presents its thanks to those ministers and friends who have ably and zealously advocated the claims of Home-Missions during the

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF EDUCATION,

TOGETHER WITH MINISTERS AND FRIENDS INVITED ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTION OF THE LAST CONFERENCE.

HULL, JULY 26TH, 1869.

PRESENT, the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall, President of the Conference, in the Chair; the Rev. John Farrar, Secretary of the Conference; the Rev. John Bedford, Ex-President of the Conference; the Rev. John Vine and John Robinson Kay, Esq., the Treasurers; the Rev. G. W. Olver, B.A., Secretary; the Rev. Dr. Rigg, Principal of the Normal Institution; the Rev. John Clulow, Visitor of Sunday-Schools; and a large number of ministers and laymen.

The Minutes of the Education Committee and its various Sub-Committees were presented, and a digest of them was read.

The number of Day-schools is 698, an increase of 16; Scholars 119,070, an increase of 8,990; average attendance 77,600, an increase of 4,979. The amount of Government Annual Grants to Wesleyan schools in 1868 was £32,611. 19*s.* 6*d.*, being an increase on the amount reported last year of £476. 7*s.* 1*d.* Twelve entirely new schools have been erected during the year 1868, one was transferred to new buildings, and eight commenced in existing buildings. Twenty-eight Outfit Grants have been made by the General Committee, amounting to £1,125. The number of Certificated Teachers employed in Wesleyan schools on the 31st of December last was 591; of Assistant-Teachers, 42; and of Pupil-Teachers, 899, an increase of 164 on the previous year.

The usual examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge was held in March last. The mode of conducting these Examinations had been considered, and proposed changes would be submitted to the ensuing Conference.

Of the 107 students who completed the year's training at the Normal Institution, all had passed the Examination at Christmas last. Of these 54 were sent to schools, making a total of 971 who have gone from Westminster. The session of 1869 commenced with 132 students, 52 of the second year, and 80 of the first.

Repeated complaints of the intolerant spirit manifested by Clergymen of the Established Church towards the children of our people had led the General Education Committee to adopt a petition to the House of Commons, praying that such measures may be taken as shall secure the enforcement of an adequate Conscience Clause in all schools receiving Parliamentary Aid in the form of Building or Annual Grants.

The Committee had carefully considered the practical effect of Day-schools upon Methodist interests, and had resolved to recommend the restoration of Connexional inspection.

1. That this Meeting rejoices in the continued success of the Day and Sabbath-Schools, as shown by the statistics now presented; and is thankful to find that steps are being taken for the more thorough and efficient working of these institutions by the formation of Circuit Sunday-School Unions, and by the Connexional inspection of Day-schools.

On the motion of Sir Francis Lycett, seconded by Mr. Isaac Hoyle, of Manchester:

2. That this Meeting, whilst thankful to learn that so much has been accomplished towards the erection of the new chapel at Westminster, through the zeal and liberality of many friends, deems it necessary to affirm its conviction that without vigorous and well-sustained local efforts throughout the Connexion, the necessary funds cannot be obtained.

On the motion of Mr. William M'Arthur, M.P., seconded by the Rev. Dr. James:

3. It having been reported to the Meeting that serious complaints continue to be made from various parts of the Connexion of the intolerance of Clergymen and others towards children of our congregations, whose parents desire them to attend National schools on the week-day, and Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-schools on the Sabbath; this Meeting resolves, That the enforcement of an adequate Conscience Clause in all schools receiving Parliamentary Grants for building or maintenance is essential to the due protection of the religious liberties of the people; and trusts that the Conference will take steps to urge this subject upon the attention of her Majesty's Government.

On the motion of the Rev. H. W. Holland, seconded by the Rev. Dr. Osborn:

4. This Committee, recognising the fact that new educational arrangements will probably be proposed by the Government in the next session, earnestly hopes that the Conference will direct its special attention to the subject.

5. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to the Rev. Dr. Rigg for his valuable services as Principal of the Normal Institution during the past year.
